Senate Approves Demo Roads Program

Eisenhower's Plan Rejected By Big Margin

Administration Pins Its Hopes On House After 60-31 Setback

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The Senate tonight passed the Democratic bill calling for a five-year, 18-billion-dollar highway building program after decisively rejecting President Eisenhower's 10 - year road plan.

Passage was on a voice vote.

The measure now goes to the House where the administration has higher hopes of winning approval of its plan, which proposes a controversial bond issue to help finance construction.

The Senate refused to accept the President's proposal by a 60-31 vote during the long day of debate which preceded final passage of the bill sponsored by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn).

It also beat back 50 to 39 a move on which Republicans had pinned most of their hopes—an effort to shelve the Gore bill by sending it back to the Public Works Committee while the House works on the legislation. Not a single Democrat went along with the motion to recommit. Voting against it were 46 Democrats and 4 Republicans.

The Senate rejected the Eisenhower program after Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said in a speech nothing had been proposed in his 22 years in the Senate which would "do more to wreck our fiscal budget system."

In a preliminary action, a proposal to let the secretary of labor fix wage rates for highway workers on the proposed new construction program fell by the wayside, on a standing vote.

The main difference between the Eisenhower and Gore programs is that the administration plan called for a bond issue, as contrasted with straight-out appropriations.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) was the only Democrat to vote for the motion to substitute Eisenhower's plan for Gore's.

Forty-seven Democrats and 13 Republicans joined to reject the administration proposal.

Republicans voting against the administration proposal were Sens. Butler (Md), Case (SD), Curtis (Neb.), Dworshak (Idaho), Hruska (Neb), Jenner (Ind), Langer (ND), Mundt (SD), Payne (Maine), Schoeppel (Kan), Welker (Idaho), Williams (Del) and Young (ND).

New Postal Pay Bill Advanced

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP) — Reacting swiftly to the burial of one postal pay raise measure, a Senate committee today approved another which members predicted would be acceptable to President Eisenhower.

The new bill would provide average increases of about 8 per cent for the half-million postal workers. Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), the sponsor, said it may hit the Senate floor for action early next week.

It was hustled through the Post Office and Civil Service Committee in a half-hour session which saw a Republican-backed rival bill rejected on a party line vote.

Johnston said his bill was okayed unanimously after the group turned down a proposal by Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), who has been the administration's chief Senate spokesman on postal pay matters.

Carlson had said his bill would have been satisfactory to the White House. Committee aides said it actually was close to a previous 7.6 per cent average pay raise measure which Eisenhower indicated some time ago was about as far as he'd like to go.

Dulles Cautions Of "False Dawn" In Soviet Tactics

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the Russians seem to be reversing their tactics in some important ways, but America must be careful not to mistake any "false dawn for the real dawn."

Dulles' remark, before the House Foreign Affairs Committee recalled President Eisenhower's comment of May 17:

"We will stay strong and we will stay vigilant, but we are not going to extinguish the hope that a new dawn may be coming even if the sun rises very, very slowly."

Dulles went before the committee today to urge support for the administration's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid program.

He was asked by Chairman Richards (D-SC) whether he thinks anything will come out of this summer's projected Big Four meeting that would make the foreign aid appropriations unnecessary.

Dulles said he sees no such prospect and, in response to another question, said he thinks it will be to the interest of America to continue its aid programs for several years at least.

Dulles also commented that reports from Paris that the Big Four meeting is set for July 18-21 at Lausanne, Switzerland, are "extremely premature and inaccurate."

Soviet Policy Reversal

On Russia, Dulles said the Soviets have recently demonstrated four examples of a "striking reversal" of policy: agreement on a peace treaty for Austria, a decision to send a top delegation to Yugoslavia despite Marshal Tito's long defiance of Moscow, a new stand on disarmament and apparent willingness to hold a Big Four meeting at the highest levels.

"No one can be confident as to the meaning of these four reversals," the secretary said, although he suggested it may be that the Russians "realize that the free world is in fact 'strong' and that they do have to give up some of the courses they once selected."

Britain's Quiet Vote Campaign Draws To End

Eden Conservatives Favored To Defeat Attlee's Laborites

LONDON, May 25 (AP)—The British election campaign ended tonight on the same quiet note that prevailed throughout. Hardly an angry word was spoken in the three weeks of campaigning.

The weather man forecast mainly cloudy weather over most of Britain for tomorrow's voting. A fine day means a big turnout of voters, and that traditionally favors the Labor party.

All betting odds and polls favored the Conservatives led by Prime Minister Eden. Some astute observers, however, foresaw a close result. A few saw a winning chance for Clement Attle's socialistic Laborites.

Eden Winds Up Tour

Eden, 57, diplomat who took over the Conservative leadership from Sir Winston Churchill two months ago, wound up a nationwide election tour by declaring a Laborite win would bring "more and more nationalization."

Attlee, 72, mild - mannered exmajor who bossed the 1945-51 Labor administration, spent his final campaign day door-knocking in the east London district that sends him to Parliament.

London newspapers and indeed most of the nation seemed less concerned with the voting than with a horse race—the Epsom Derby. The race was the main story of all three London evening papers.

The main business of each party machine has been to woo the floating voter—the middle-of-the-road man not yet committed—and to make sure its regular supporters get to the polls.

Commons Seats At Stake

Each of 630 districts elects one member to the House of Commons. The party with most seats forms a government for a maximum five-year term. No one votes for Eden or Attlee or any other leader unless he lives in the district which that leader wants to represent in the House.

If the Conservatives win, Eden will stay on as prime minister, with Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and Treasury chief R. A. Butler as his top lieutenants.

If the Laborites win, Eden will hand his resignation to Queen Elizabeth II and advise her that Attlee should form a government. Attlee would take the premiership, with his moderate allies Herbert Morrison and Hugh Gaitskell as chief aides.

Food Relief Measure Approved By House

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The House voted 343-1 today to make government stocks of surplus flour and cornmeal available to needy unemployed persons and victims of disaster.

The measure, which now goes to the Senate, was aimed primarily at affording relief to unemployed coal miners.

The government would be permitted for the first time to dip into its stocks of storable farm commodities for relief distribution through the Department of Health, Welfare and Education.

Currently, food giveaways from government surpluses acquired through price support operations are limited by law to perishables like cheese.

Women's Clubs Approve Sex Education In Schools

PHILADELPHIA, May 25 (AP)—The General Federation of Women's Clubs today adopted a resolution approving education about sex — described delicately as "teaching in family living and responsibility"—in schools for youngsters and potential teachers.

The Federation rejected another major resolution calling for granting 18-year-olds the right to vote in elections.

The recommendation on sex education called on the Federation's 15,500 member clubs to urge that the course be taught in schools as a unit toward graduation. The convention struck out a provision that such a course should be necessary for graduation, and also changed the phrasing to make it apply to "schools" generally, rather than "secondary schools" as in the original wording.

This prompted some lobby discussion later among delegates as to whether 6-year-olds in elementary school should be taught "the facts of life."

The resolutions committee, headed by Mrs. Harold Ritchie, of Athens, Ga., had added the suggestion that "family life education" be part of teacher training curricula, to prepare those who will teach the school children.

As adopted by the federation, the resolution says the need for such teaching is based on a feeling that, "many marriages which might have developed successfully, have ended unhappily because of inability to deal constructively with problems of adjustment."

Club members were urged to encourage churches of all denominations to give information on successful family living to couples contemplating marriage.

Witness Accuses Subcommittee Aides

Mrs. Mella Hort points a finger from the witness table as she accuses two Senate Investigations subcommittee aides of having "browbeaten" her in an effort to get her to give untrue testimony. She accused Robert F. Kennedy and Carmine Bellino of having figuratively "twisted my arm." The subcommittee is investigating alleged graft in connection with Army purchase contracts. Seated beside her is her attorney, William Hort, her brother-in-law.

Brunette Denies Shakedown, Hits Probe Staffers

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—A svelte brunette who admitted there was something in the past she wanted to conceal denied today she tried to shake down Chicago hat-maker Harry Lev for $15,000.

The witness, Mrs. Mella Hort, a former government contract checker, accused two Senate Investigations subcommittee staff members of "browbeating" her in an effort to make her give false testimony relating to the alleged 1953 shakedown attempt.

Her voice quivering, she swore aides Robert F. Kennedy and Carmine Bellino badgered her "to the verge of hysteria" when they questioned her last Thursday.

Used Strong Language

She acknowledged under stern questioning from Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), however, that main reason for her near-hysteria was a fear the inquiry would bring out "some things we haven't revealed," as McClellan put it.

And she admitted using some strong language to the committee aides. Sen. Ervin (D-NC) said it looked to him as if Mrs. Hort had browbeaten Bellino and Kennedy, who is a brother of Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Mrs. Hort testified she accepted two $150 suits from Lev—who then and later held big government contracts—and some less expensive clothing, such as a $10 coat and probably some lingerie, from Marvin Rubin, who later became Lev's partner.

In addition she said Lev gave her husband, Eugene, $2,000 to help set up a chemical manufacturing business.

Lev Backed Out

But Lev backed out of the proposed venture, Mrs. Hort said, and so she typed a letter for her husband—dated June 22, 1953—denouncing the Chicagoan for failure to keep a promise.

It was the letter that touched off today's fireworks.

Mrs. Hort, who now lives in Westfield, N. J., angrily denied there was any basis for a question by Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), who asked if she wasn't actually trying to collect $15,000 "blackmail" from Lev.

And she charged Kennedy and Bellino both "browbeat" her and "made alluring promises" if she would testify falsely about the date of the letter. They promised among other things they would keep her husband's name out of the inquiry, she said.

Maryland Would Get $363,498 Vaccine Fund

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The estimated allocation of funds to the states under the proposed plan for distributing 28 million dollars in federal funds for free polio vaccine for children who can't afford to buy it includes:

District of Columbia $95,938, Maryland $363,498, Tennessee $815,240, Virginia $725,509 and West Virginia $467,803.

360 Holiday Traffic Fatalities Forecast

CHICAGO, May 25 (AP)—The National Safety Council today estimates 360 Americans may be killed in traffic accidents during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

That would be close to the record for the holiday. The traffic toll in 1952 was 363. Last year it was 362. The holiday period in both of those years convered three days.

The holiday weekend this year, in the Council's reckoning runs from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

The Council predicted heavy travel on the first summer holiday and the start of the vacation season. It figured 40 million motor vehicles may be on the move during the three-day period and calculated travel at a total of almost three billion miles.

Reports Of Big 4 Talk Site Accord Denied By Dulles

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today reports from Paris of an agreement by the United States on a time for a Big Four meeting of heads of states are "extremely premature and inaccurate."

Dulles said the three inviting powers, the United States, Great Britain and France, have not agreed among themselves," much less with the Soviet Union" on definite arrangements for the meeting.

James Hagerty, press secretary of President Eisenhower, made essentially the same comment to newsmen who inquired about the Paris report.

Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay had told newsmen in Paris after a French Cabinet session that Eisenhower had accepted the dates July 18-21 for the meeting. The dispatch said Lausane, Switzerland, had been proposed by the three allies as the site.

Hagerty, however, said this was only one of the times and places under consideration.

PARIS, May 25 (AP)—A 24-hour newspaper workers strike shut down the Paris morning papers late tonight. Among the papers not publishing is the Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune.

Russian Leaders Fly To Belgrade Today For Talks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 25 (AP)—The top men of the Soviet Union are coming here tomorrow by plane from Moscow to try a reconciliation of the Kremlin with Tito communism. They have been estranged since 1948.

The government of President-Marshal Tito, who celebrated his 63rd birthday today, has said there will be no secrets about the results. It has pledged that Yugoslavia's good relations with the West will not be affected.

Details of the session—to be held under tight security guard—were largely secret and so was the arrival time of the Soviet delegation until late tonight.

The first official word on arrival appeared before midnight in the Yugoslav Communist party newspaper Politika.

The Soviet delegation is headed by Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Vice Premier A. I. Mikoyan.

The exact hour of arrival was not announced, but it is expected to be in the late afternoon. Politika said President Tito and members of the Federal Executive Council will meet the Soviet delegates at Belgrade Airport.

Politika urged the people of Belgrade to line the streets leading to the airport to show they "believe that the Yugoslav - Soviet talks will be fruitful and will contribute to the further improvement of relations between the two countries."

NEWPORT, R. I., May 25 (AP)—Countess Allene de Kotzebue, Newport summer resident, left an estate of more than 15 million dollars, according to her will filed today in Probate Court.

The countess, the former Allene Tew of Janesville, Wis., died in France May 1.

Newspaper Says Mrs. Luce Due To Replace Mrs. Hobby

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—The New York Daily News says Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce is flying home from Italy this weekend to be offered the Cabinet post of secretary of health, education and welfare. She is expected to accept it, the newspaper adds.

President Eisenhower disclosed at his last news conference that Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby has informed him she may have to resign.

Mrs. Hobby's husband, William P. Hobby, former governor of Texas, has been seriously ill for several months.

In Washington tonight, however, James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, disclaimed any knowledge of the impending Cabinet shift reported by the New York paper.

"It's news to me; the first I ever heard of it," he said.

Mrs. Hobby is in Texas with her husband. The acting secretary of health, education and welfare, Roswell B. Perkins, said:

"So far as I know there is absolutely no substance to such a report."

The President recently praised Mrs. Hobby despite attacks in Congress on her handling of the Salk polio vaccine situation.

However, the News, in a copyright dispatch from Washington by Ruth Montgomery, says Eisenhower reportedly has become highly annoyed with Mrs. Hobby over the vaccine matter.

Carney Passed Up By President For New Term

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower passed up four-star Adm. Robert B. Carney today for reappointment to the high command of the Navy. He picked instead Rear Adm. Arleigh A. ("31 Knot") Burke, elevating him from far down in the available list of flag officers.

In announcing the choice of a new chief of naval operations, the White House denied there was any connection between the fact that Carney was not picked for another term and the recent linking of his name to a supposedly off-record discussion on war possibility which irked Eisenhower and the State Department.

Decision Comes As Surprise

The action of the administration in reaching down past 92 admirals of various degrees to choose Burke, who was a figure in the Navy-Air Force argument six years ago, and promote him to full admiral rank startled most people in the Pentagon.

However, the selection of the 54-year-old Burke and the decision against renaming 60-year-old Carney was understood to have been under study by a few top-level civilian officials for some time.

Burke got his "31 Knot" nickname for his dashing, high speed destroyer tactics against the Japanese in World War II.

Radford, Twining Renamed

Simultaneously with sending to the Senate the nomination of Burke to succeed Carney, the White House proposed that the present term of Adm. Arthur W. Radford as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Gen. Nathan F. Twining as Air Force chief of staff be extended two years.

Radford is 59 years old. Hagerty said he did not know whether special authorization would be required to permit Radford to serve beyond the 60-year age point, but he did state that Carney, who became 60 last March, "would be unable to fill out an extended two-year term prior to reaching the normal retirement age of the Navy."

Population To Reach 165 Million Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—This country's population is due to reach 165 million Friday morning.

That figure will be ticked off just before 9 a.m. (EDT) by the "census clock" at the Commerce Department building, the Census Bureau said.

The census clock, a large board with a map of the United States and a clock hand indicating total population, ticks off a net increase of one person each 12 seconds.

This is done by combining estimates, based on vital statistics from throughout the nation, that there is a birth each 8 seconds, a death each 21 seconds, an immigrant arrives each 2 minutes and an emigrant departs each 24 minutes.

Singer's Arrest Ordered

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Singer Jeannette MacDonald was ordered arrested today because a rooming house she owns on W. 97th St. has not been kept in proper repair.

After she failed for a third time to appear in court to answer the complaint, Magistrate Robert F. Mahoney signed a warrant for her arrest.

Standards Not Satisfactory, Company Says

Watchdog Committee Of Scientists Set Up To Pass On All Serum

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)— A new cloud of uncertainty settled over the antipolio campaign tonight as at least one big maker of Salk vaccine balked at new production rules laid down by the government.

Homer C. Fritsch, executive vice president of Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit, told reporters the revised standards for manufacture and testing of the vaccine were not acceptable to him "as presently written," and that he believed the five other licensed manufacturers felt the same way.

"That is why the meeting is breaking up for today," Fritsch said.

The U.S. Public Health Service had called the manufacturers' representatives together to lay the new standards before them as a first step toward resumption of the antipolio campaign on a national scale.

Without disclosing details of the new standards, a government announcement said they would be "required" of all manufacturers whose product was to be cleared for the inoculation program.

"Tentative" Standards

Fritsch reported, however, they had been presented to the manufacturers as "tentative". He said there would be a further discussion of the question with Public Health authorities tomorrow.

Asked about the tentative quality of the standards, a Public Health Service press officer commented that, "The degree to which they can be put into practice is not at the point of our saying 'Here are certain changes on which we insist—do it or don't do it.'"

The government also announced today it had set up a watchdog committee of scientists to review production methods in all licensed pharmaceutical houses and examine government testing procedures.

"We have now completed our discussions of manufacture and testing," Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele said. (This was before Fritsch spoke out.) "We are now prepared to move ahead in the hope that we can clear them (new batches of vaccine) at the earliest possible date."

When E. N. Beesley, president of Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, was asked if the new standards were acceptable to him, he replied, "No comment."

"Practical" Tests Urged

Earlier Beesley had told a reporter that testing proposals made by the government last week "would have involved considerably more testing and from the public's point of view would greatly slow down the availability of the vaccine."

Beesley said he wanted tests which would insure the safety of the vaccine and at the same time be "practical" from a manufacturing point of view.

As the watchdog group was being organized, Rep. Klein (D-NY), a member of the House Commerce Committee, demanded an investigation of a rumor that "a very prominent politician" in California had brought pressure on Secretary of Welfare Hobby to license Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., as a vaccine maker.

Argentine Police, Catholics Clash

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 25 (AP)—Press reports from Cordoba tonight said Roman Catholics and police clashed after evening Mass on this national holiday. Eight persons were reported under arrest there. Cordoba is a provincial capital.

Here in the national capital, police dispersed Catholic marchers singing the national anthem after a patriotic ceremony at the Metropolitan Cathedral.

Roman Catholic bishops at the provincial capitals of San Juan, Tucuman and Santiago del Estero attended traditional open air Masses conducted for regiments of the Argentine army. Lesser church officials performed Masses at these and other regimental headquarters throughout the country.

But for the first time in Argentine history, the President and other top officials and the Catholic cardinal were absent from the Catholic ceremony commemorating the revolt against Spain 145 years ago.

Witness Accuses Subcommittee Aides

Mrs. Mella Hort points a finger from the witness table as she accuses two Senate Investigations subcommittee aides of having "browbeaten" her in an effort to get her to give untrue testimony. She accused Robert F. Kennedy and Carmine Bellino of having figuratively "twisted my arm." The subcommittee is investigating alleged graft in connection with Army purchase contracts. Seated beside her is her attorney, William Hort, her brother-in-law.

Brunette Denies Shakedown, Hits Probe Staffers

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—A svelte brunette who admitted there was something in the past she wanted to conceal denied today she tried to shake down Chicago hat-maker Harry Lev for $15,000.

The witness, Mrs. Mella Hort, a former government contract checker, accused two Senate Investigations subcommittee staff members of "browbeating" her in an effort to make her give false testimony relating to the alleged 1953 shakedown attempt.

Her voice quivering, she swore aides Robert F. Kennedy and Carmine Bellino badgered her "to the verge of hysteria" when they questioned her last Thursday.

Used Strong Language

She acknowledged under stern questioning from Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), however, that main reason for her near-hysteria was a fear the inquiry would bring out "some things we haven't revealed," as McClellan put it.

And she admitted using some strong language to the committee aides. Sen. Ervin (D-NC) said it looked to him as if Mrs. Hort had browbeaten Bellino and Kennedy, who is a brother of Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Mrs. Hort testified she accepted two $150 suits from Lev—who then and later held big government contracts—and some less expensive clothing, such as a $10 coat and probably some lingerie, from Marvin Rubin, who later became Lev's partner.

In addition she said Lev gave her husband, Eugene, $2,000 to help set up a chemical manufacturing business.

Lev Backed Out

But Lev backed out of the proposed venture, Mrs. Hort said, and so she typed a letter for her husband—dated June 22, 1953—denouncing the Chicagoan for failure to keep a promise.

It was the letter that touched off today's fireworks.

Mrs. Hort, who now lives in Westfield, N. J., angrily denied there was any basis for a question by Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), who asked if she wasn't actually trying to collect $15,000 "blackmail" from Lev.

And she charged Kennedy and Bellino both "browbeat" her and "made alluring promises" if she would testify falsely about the date of the letter. They promised among other things they would keep her husband's name out of the inquiry, she said.

Maryland Would Get $363,498 Vaccine Fund

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The estimated allocation of funds to the states under the proposed plan for distributing 28 million dollars in federal funds for free polio vaccine for children who can't afford to buy it includes:

District of Columbia $95,938, Maryland $363,498, Tennessee $815,240, Virginia $725,509 and West Virginia $467,803.

360 Holiday Traffic Fatalities Forecast

CHICAGO, May 25 (AP)—The National Safety Council today estimates 360 Americans may be killed in traffic accidents during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

That would be close to the record for the holiday. The traffic toll in 1952 was 363. Last year it was 362. The holiday period in both of those years convered three days.

The holiday weekend this year, in the Council's reckoning runs from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

The Council predicted heavy travel on the first summer holiday and the start of the vacation season. It figured 40 million motor vehicles may be on the move during the three-day period and calculated travel at a total of almost three billion miles.

Reports Of Big 4 Talk Site Accord Denied By Dulles

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today reports from Paris of an agreement by the United States on a time for a Big Four meeting of heads of states are "extremely premature and inaccurate."

Dulles said the three inviting powers, the United States, Great Britain and France, have not agreed among themselves," much less with the Soviet Union" on definite arrangements for the meeting.

James Hagerty, press secretary of President Eisenhower, made essentially the same comment to newsmen who inquired about the Paris report.

Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay had told newsmen in Paris after a French Cabinet session that Eisenhower had accepted the dates July 18-21 for the meeting. The dispatch said Lausane, Switzerland, had been proposed by the three allies as the site.

Hagerty, however, said this was only one of the times and places under consideration.

Russian Leaders Fly To Belgrade Today For Talks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 25 (AP)—The top men of the Soviet Union are coming here tomorrow by plane from Moscow to try a reconciliation of the Kremlin with Tito communism. They have been estranged since 1948.

The government of President-Marshal Tito, who celebrated his 63rd birthday today, has said there will be no secrets about the results. It has pledged that Yugoslavia's good relations with the West will not be affected.

Details of the session—to be held under tight security guard—were largely secret and so was the arrival time of the Soviet delegation until late tonight.

The first official word on arrival appeared before midnight in the Yugoslav Communist party newspaper Politika.

The Soviet delegation is headed by Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Vice Premier A. I. Mikoyan.

The exact hour of arrival was not announced, but it is expected to be in the late afternoon. Politika said President Tito and members of the Federal Executive Council will meet the Soviet delegates at Belgrade Airport.

Politika urged the people of Belgrade to line the streets leading to the airport to show they "believe that the Yugoslav - Soviet talks will be fruitful and will contribute to the further improvement of relations between the two countries."

Carney Passed Up By President For New Term

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower passed up four-star Adm. Robert B. Carney today for reappointment to the high command of the Navy. He picked instead Rear Adm. Arleigh A. ("31 Knot") Burke, elevating him from far down in the available list of flag officers.

In announcing the choice of a new chief of naval operations, the White House denied there was any connection between the fact that Carney was not picked for another term and the recent linking of his name to a supposedly off-record discussion on war possibility which irked Eisenhower and the State Department.

Decision Comes As Surprise

The action of the administration in reaching down past 92 admirals of various degrees to choose Burke, who was a figure in the Navy-Air Force argument six years ago, and promote him to full admiral rank startled most people in the Pentagon.

However, the selection of the 54-year-old Burke and the decision against renaming 60-year-old Carney was understood to have been under study by a few top-level civilian officials for some time.

Burke got his "31 Knot" nickname for his dashing, high speed destroyer tactics against the Japanese in World War II.

Radford, Twining Renamed

Simultaneously with sending to the Senate the nomination of Burke to succeed Carney, the White House proposed that the present term of Adm. Arthur W. Radford as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Gen. Nathan F. Twining as Air Force chief of staff be extended two years.

Radford is 59 years old. Hagerty said he did not know whether special authorization would be required to permit Radford to serve beyond the 60-year age point, but he did state that Carney, who became 60 last March, "would be unable to fill out an extended two-year term prior to reaching the normal retirement age of the Navy."

Population To Reach 165 Million Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—This country's population is due to reach 165 million Friday morning.

That figure will be ticked off just before 9 a.m. (EDT) by the "census clock" at the Commerce Department building, the Census Bureau said.

The census clock, a large board with a map of the United States and a clock hand indicating total population, ticks off a net increase of one person each 12 seconds.

This is done by combining estimates, based on vital statistics from throughout the nation, that there is a birth each 8 seconds, a death each 21 seconds, an immigrant arrives each 2 minutes and an emigrant departs each 24 minutes.

Singer's Arrest Ordered

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Singer Jeannette MacDonald was ordered arrested today because a rooming house she owns on W. 97th St. has not been kept in proper repair.

After she failed for a third time to appear in court to answer the complaint, Magistrate Robert F. Mahoney signed a warrant for her arrest.

Newspaper Says Mrs. Luce Due To Replace Mrs. Hobby

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—The New York Daily News says Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce is flying home from Italy this weekend to be offered the Cabinet post of secretary of health, education and welfare. She is expected to accept it, the newspaper adds.

President Eisenhower disclosed at his last news conference that Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby has informed him she may have to resign.

Mrs. Hobby's husband, William P. Hobby, former governor of Texas, has been seriously ill for several months.

In Washington tonight, however, James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, disclaimed any knowledge of the impending Cabinet shift reported by the New York paper.

"It's news to me; the first I ever heard of it," he said.

Mrs. Hobby is in Texas with her husband. The acting secretary of health, education and welfare, Roswell B. Perkins, said:

"So far as I know there is absolutely no substance to such a report."

The President recently praised Mrs. Hobby despite attacks in Congress on her handling of the Salk polio vaccine situation.

However, the News, in a copyright dispatch from Washington by Ruth Montgomery, says Eisenhower reportedly has become highly annoyed with Mrs. Hobby over the vaccine matter.

Standards Not Satisfactory, Company Says

Watchdog Committee Of Scientists Set Up To Pass On All Serum

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)— A new cloud of uncertainty settled over the antipolio campaign tonight as at least one big maker of Salk vaccine balked at new production rules laid down by the government.

Homer C. Fritsch, executive vice president of Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit, told reporters the revised standards for manufacture and testing of the vaccine were not acceptable to him "as presently written," and that he believed the five other licensed manufacturers felt the same way.

"That is why the meeting is breaking up for today," Fritsch said.

The U.S. Public Health Service had called the manufacturers' representatives together to lay the new standards before them as a first step toward resumption of the antipolio campaign on a national scale.

Without disclosing details of the new standards, a government announcement said they would be "required" of all manufacturers whose product was to be cleared for the inoculation program.

"Tentative" Standards

Fritsch reported, however, they had been presented to the manufacturers as "tentative". He said there would be a further discussion of the question with Public Health authorities tomorrow.

Asked about the tentative quality of the standards, a Public Health Service press officer commented that, "The degree to which they can be put into practice is not at the point of our saying 'Here are certain changes on which we insist—do it or don't do it.'"

The government also announced today it had set up a watchdog committee of scientists to review production methods in all licensed pharmaceutical houses and examine government testing procedures.

"We have now completed our discussions of manufacture and testing," Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele said. (This was before Fritsch spoke out.) "We are now p epared to move ahead in the hope that we can clear them (new batches of vaccine) at the earliest possible date."

When E. N. Beesley, president of Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, was asked if the new standards were acceptable to him, he replied, "No comment."

"Practical" Tests Urged

Earlier Beesley had told a reporter that testing proposals made by the government last week "would have involved considerably more testing and from the public's point of view would greatly slow down the availability of the vaccine."

Beesley said he wanted tests which would insure the safety of the vaccine and at the same time be "practical" from a manufacturing point of view.

As the watchdog group was being organized, Rep. Klein (D-NY), a member of the House Commerce Committee, demanded an investigation of a rumor that "a very prominent politician" in California had brought pressure on Secretary of Welfare Hobby to license Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., as a vaccine maker.

Argentine Police, Catholics Clash

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 25 (AP)—Press reports from Cordoba tonight said Roman Catholics and police clashed after evening Mass on this national holiday. Eight persons were reported under arrest there. Cordoba is a provincial capital.

Here in the national capital, police dispersed Catholic marchers singing the national anthem after a patriotic ceremony at the Metropolitan Cathedral.

Roman Catholic bishops at the provincial capitals of San Juan, Tucuman and Santiago del Estero attended traditional open air Masses conducted for regiments of the Argentine army. Lesser church officials performed Masses at these and other regimental headquarters throughout the country.

But for the first time in Argentine history, the President and other top officials and the Catholic cardinal were absent from the Catholic ceremony commemorating the revolt against Spain 145 years ago.

Hoover Group Scores "Waste" In Government Storage Space

Commission Report Raps "Duplication"

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The Hoover Commission today called for the elimination of "duplication and waste" in the use of government warehouse and storage space which, it said, occupies an area twice the size of Manhattan Island.

The 11th report of the Reorganization Commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, said the Defense Department has 100 million square feet of storage "not listed on the operating records."

The report "commended" to Congress and the executive agencies measures which it estimated would eliminate 172 million square feet of federal warehousing at a saving of 288 million dollars annually.

The recommendations were drafted by a special task force headed by Clifford E. Hicks, President of the New York Dock Co. and New York Dock Railway.

Endorsed unanimously by the seven Republican and five Democratic members of the Hoover Commission, the recommendations proposed that:

1. Secretary of Defense Wilson "establish and exercise positive control" over the storage facilities of all three branches of the military establishment.

2. Both military and civilian agencies should make the greatest practicable use of commercial storage facilities.

3. The Office of Defense Mobilization should be enlarged and given greater powers to police the care and management of the national defense stockpile of critical war materials, now stored in 315 locations.

4. ODM and the General Services Administration should correct the "general lack of control" and inadequate inventory records on the government-owned strategic reserve of machine tools and production equipment.

5. Congress should give GSA, the government's housekeeping agency, "the necessary authority to integrate into its own control, or to compel coordination, of, all civilian agency storage."

LITTLE BOY, NO HOME — Little Kenny Casey, 2, looks sad as he is carried by Robert Ostler to the juvenile home at Chicago after the Ostlers said "We just can't take care of him anymore," and that "We've got three kids of our own." About a month ago Kenny's mother, Barbara, asked them to take care of the child for $18 a week while she took a job and "got on her feet." They haven't heard from the lad's mother since then. Police were informed but they couldn't find the mother.

It's 'Shakes Beer,' Not Shakespeare

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — A third grade student who recently visited the Enoch Pratt Free Library and received instruction in use of the card catalog returned today with her mother, eager to demonstrate her newly acquired knowledge.

Miss Rita Darin, children's librarian, said the youngster pulled out the "B" drawer and said importantly, "Now, Mother, you see you look up the name of the author in the catalog and you don't look it up by his first name. You look it up by his last.

"For instance," the youngster continued, "if you want to look up Shakespeare, you don't look under Shakes. You look under Beer."

School Segregation Ruling Probe Asked

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) today asked a Senate investigation of the Supreme Court's decision that race segregation in the public schools is unconstitutional.

Eastland said that Communist-front groups apparently had wielded influence on authorities cited by the court. He introduced a resolution proposing a Senate investigation.

Eastland said the court's unanimous decision of last May was "based solely and alone on psychological, sociological, and anthropological consideration" and not on law.

22-Year-Old Hospital Bill Paid With Interest

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 25 (AP)—It's better late than never—even when it comes to paying hospital bills.

Officials of Erlanger Hospital said today they received payment by mail of a bill incurred nearly 22 years ago—Oct. 11, 1933.

The bill was only $19.05, but the sender, who said her deceased father incurred the debt, added five per cent "interest" which she figured brought the total obligation to $41.00.

mor, denied he had any contact with Mrs. Hobby's department or any vaccine maker in connection with the Salk preparation.

Dr. Jonas Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, developer of the vaccine, and six other medical experts were named to the watchdog committee. The Public Health Service said they will "recommend action on all lots of vaccine already produced but not yet released and all lots of the vaccine which will be produced in the future." The committee will hold its first meeting tomorrow.

North African Violence Leaves 11 Persons Dead

PARIS, May 25 (AP)—Eleven persons have been killed in less than 24 hours in troubled French North Africa amid scenes of burning, pillage and other sabotage.

In the new surge of violence between the authorities and nationalist extremists the French debated whether to use a hard or soft policy to curb uprisings.

Most of the trouble centered in Algeria, politically a part of France itself. Four Algerians were reported slain today in the village of Beni-Imloul, between the Aures and Nemencha mountains.

Another report from Algiers said rebels ambushed a scout patrol convoy near Tebessa yesterday, killing 2 Frenchmen and 4 Arabs and capturing 26 other Arabs. The rebels burned the convoy's vehicles and made off with its arms and prisoners. Two companies of riflemen and two machine gun squads pursued the attackers.

Other violence reported included the burning of small railroad stations, pillage of farms and sabotage of vineyards by nationalist terrorists. There were no major clashes between French troops and nationalists. However, Paris newspapers reported intensified police operations, with at least 100 additional arrests.

Far to the west, at Casablanca in Morocco, a French protectorate, a local labor leader was assassinated.

Tuition Equalization Voted By School Board

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—The State Board of Education today voted to increase tuition payments to a school in one county which accepts pupils from an adjoining county.

The action affects several counties, but the most important instance is at Mt. Airy, where several hundred pupils from adjoining areas of Frederick County attend Carroll County schools.

The increase in tuition will be calculated as part of the State's equalization formula for school aid.

One phase of the compensation has provided a special allowance for building schools. The rate has been $15 a year for each elementary pupil accepted from an adjoining county and $20 for each high school pupil. The new rate will be $30 and $50 a year per pupil.

Wendell D. Allen, Baltimore attorney, and J. Jerome Framptom of Federalsburg, were reelected president and vice president of the board at its annual organizational meeting.

Copper Mistaken For Burglar Gets Clout Over Head

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Detective Sgt. William W. Friel, hunting a man wanted on a wife beating charge, stuck his head through an open window of a house early today after failing to get any response to a knock at the front door.

Annie Odum, 65, the occupant, was waiting for him with a club the size of a baseball bat, thinking he was a burglar. She let go, shattering his glasses and imbedding a fragment of glass in his eye.

The woman apologized, saying her home recently had been broken into and she thought this was a repeat performance.

Baltimore Democrats Outspent Republicans

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—Baltimore Democrats, who won the city elections earlier this month, spent more money than Republicans and used a higher percentage of their funds to pay the expenses of practical precinct work.

Studies of expense reports showed today that the Democrats who rode into office with Mayor D'Alesandro spent a total of $109,808.32, of which about half or $53,670 was used for election day expenses.

An estimate of Republican expenses indicates $67,419.45 was spent with proportionately more going for advertising.

The total for Republican advertising appeared from estimates to have been in the neighborhood of $34,000, or nearly half of what was spent. Only $12,950 of Republican money went for "runners, watchers" and other precinct workers on election day.

President To Address West Point Graduates

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower will make the commencement address at the United States Military Academy June 7—the first West Point graduate to address the cadets as chief executive.

The National Broadcasting Co. said today the speech will be televised in color from the West Point fieldhouse in a 30-minute program beginning at 9 a. m. EST. It will also be telecast in black and white.

Council, Planning Group Will Visit 9 State Agencies

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — The State Planning Commission today scheduled a series of visits to nine State agencies as the first step toward drawing up next year's building program.

The Legislative Council is to accompany commission members on the visits for the first time this year and I. Alvin Pasarew, planning commission director, said he hoped such joint visits would give the Legislature a better idea of what the commission is up against.

He noted the Legislature's flat five per cent cut in appropriation for all projects costing more than $50,000 had seriously crimped the University of Maryland library and other buildings.

"Indiscriminate cutting," Pasarew said, often causes a needless delay in construction and, at times, a costly redrawing of architect's plans.

Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th), who attended today's meeting, agreed the General Assembly might have been "penny wise and pound foolish" with some of its cuts.

He suggested Pasarew draw up a memorandum for the 1956 Legislature showing the results of the flat 5 per cent cuts.

The inspections trips scheduled were:

June 2 — Department of Motor Vehicles; June 9—St. Mary's Seminary Junior College and the Department of Research and Education's laboratory at Solomons; June 16—Civil Defense Headquarters and Maryland State Police, both in Pikesville, and the Department of Games and Inland Fish Hatchery at Lewistown; June 23 — Hall of Records, Department of Tidewater Fisheries, and Sandy Point State Park.

Two Youngsters Perish In Blaze

STEVENSVILLE, Md., May 25 (AP)—Two children died and three adults were burned or injured in a fire which swept a two-story frame house here early today.

The house was located near Chesapeake Bay Bridge on the Eastern Shore.

The children who died were Roberta Baxter, 2, and Richard T. Baxter, 4. They were asleep in an upstairs room when the fire broke out.

The three adults who were hurt in repeated attempts to save the children managed to carry a one-year-old baby to safety.

They were James Roe, 19-year-old farm hand whose arms were burned; Richard B. Baxter, the 35-year-old father of the children who suffered cuts of the arms and hands and Mrs. Marie Baxter, the 30-year-old mother, who suffered burns of the hands and feet.

Roe was burned attempting to make his way down a hall on the second floor to the children's room. He, too, slept on the second floor. He escaped by leaping out of a window.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter received their injuries trying to get upstairs to the children.

Man Loses Quarter In Robbery Attempt

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 25 (AP)—A robbery attempt cost a would-be bandit 25 cents today.

Mrs. Mary Cole, a 47-year-old waitress, said she was alone in a cafe when a young man entered and asked her to change a quarter. He handed her the money. As she turned to the cash register, he mumbled:

"This is a holdup."

Mrs. Cole screamed for the manager, W. L. Hall, who was sleeping in a back room.

The man fled, knife in hand, leaving his quarter behind.

Blood-Spattered Holdup Car Found

CATONSVILLE, Md., May 25 (AP)—Police found a blood-soaked stolen car in the woods near here today. It was identified as the car used earlier in a holdup.

The woods were being searched on the theory someone may have been beaten up or killed and left there. The front seat of the car was blood spattered and a slug from a .45 caliber pistol was found on the floor.

Carl Shifflet, attendant at a filling station at Route 40 and Route 29 in Howard County, was beaten and robbed of about $100 around 4 a. m. today by two young men in a gray car.

Shifflet told police the car found in the woods was the same one the young bandits used. It was a stolen car.

Callis Convicted On Bankruptcy Fraud Charges

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — Eugene M. Callis, whose oil and milk empire turned sour four years ago, was convicted in federal court today on four charges of cheating in a bankruptcy declaration.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen released Callis under $10,000 bail until Tuesday when he will impose sentence.

Callis once owned a $70,000 per month dairy operation called Kennersley Farms in Queen Anne's County, Md., and ran the Petrol Terminal Corp., a Philadelphia holding company.

He testified he lost his money when he tried to expand from oil distribution into oil refining and was caught in a drop in oil prices.

It was described as the only business mistake he made in a long and successful career.

The 53-year-old businessman was accused of concealing from bankruptcy officials eight insurance policies and a $28,000 account receivable.

He later borrowed $56,000 on the policies, but argued he had given them to his wife and a business associate and they were not his assets.

He also argued that because of a reorganization, he never expected to get the $28,000 from a Philadelphia oil subsidiary of Petrol.

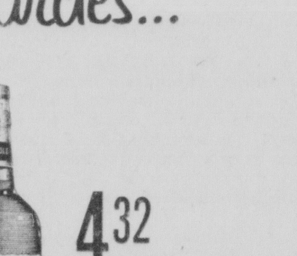

The maximum penalty he faces next Tuesday is 20 years in prison and $20,000 fine.

Officers Search For Note Writer In Girl's Slaying

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—Police searched today for a man named by an anonymous letter writer as having "pulled something out" of his car on the bridge under which Carolyn Wasilewski's body was found last November.

Though the letter was anonymous, police described it as "the most promising development in months" in the unsolved case.

The 14-year-old Carolyn's partially nude and beaten body was found on the railroad tracks near Pimlico race track.

A county fireman told of having seen a two-tone car on the bridge the night before the body was found.

The letter writer told police he was the owner of the car reported by the fireman. He said he was with a girl at the time and was surprised she had not come forth to tell police about it.

The anonymous writer said he had just returned from a long absence from the city. He said the other two-tone car he saw on the bridge was driven by a man described as about 35 years-old, five feet, eight inches tall and weighing "about 100 pounds."

The writer said he saw the man pull something out of the car which he thought was trash at the time, "but now I know better."

He said he traced the owner of the car through the license number. Police said today they were searching not only for the man named in the letter but for the writer of the letter, as well.

Immediate Naming Of New Judges Urged

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — The Judicial Council of the Fourth Circuit today urged immediate filling of the vacancy to be created June 1 by the retirement of Federal Judge William C. Coleman.

The council also asked that an additional judgeship be created. It said both moves are essential to the efficient operation of justice in the area.

The recommendations were made in a resolution adopted by Chief Judge John J. Parker of the Fourth Circuit and Circuit Judges Morris A. Soper and Armistead M. Dobie.

Copies of the resolution were made available to the U.S. attorney general, the director of the administrative office of the U. S. courts, the chairman of the judiciary committees of the Senate and House of Representatives and to U.S. Sens. Butler and Beall (R-Md.).

Jobless Benefit Claims Rise Slightly

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation last week were still below the level reached at the same time last year despite a slight increase over the previous week, the State Department of Employment Security said today.

There were 2,525 new claims week before last and 2,720 last week.

During the third week of May last year, there were 4,415 new claims. In 1953, one of the State's best employment years, there were in the third week of May 1,895 new claims.

A good part of last week's gain was attributed to a slight softening in the employment picture at Crisfield, Oakland and Elkton. Claims at Oakland doubled from 25 the week before last to 50; there was a jump from 24 to 95 at Crisfield and a raise of from 11 to 92 at Elkton.

Up until last week, new claims were in a steady decline from the seasonal peak usually reached in April, the beginning of the new benefit year from a standpoint of eligibility.

The Department paid out last week $432,546 to 19,861 eligibles.

Hoover Group Scores "Waste" In Government Storage Space

Commission Report Raps "Duplication"

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The Hoover Commission today called for the elimination of "duplication and waste" in the use of government warehouse and storage space which, it said, occupies an area twice the size of Manhattan Island.

The 11th report of the Reorganization Commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, said the Defense Department has 100 million square feet of storage "not listed on the operating records."

The report "commended" to Congress and the executive agencies measures which it estimated would eliminate 172 million square feet of federal warehousing at a saving of 288 million dollars annually.

The recommendations were drafted by a special task force headed by Clifford E. Hicks, President of the New York Dock Co. and New York Dock Railway.

Endorsed unanimously by the seven Republican and five Democratic members of the Hoover Commission, the recommendations proposed that:

1. Secretary of Defense Wilson "establish and exercise positive control" over the storage facilities of all three branches of the military establishment.

2. Both military and civilian agencies should make the greatest practicable use of commercial storage facilities.

3. The Office of Defense Mobilization should be enlarged and given greater powers to police the care and management of the national defense stockpile of critical war materials, now stored in 315 locations.

4. ODM and the General Services Administration should correct the "general lack of control" and inadequate inventory records on the government-owned strategic reserve of machine tools and production equipment.

5. Congress should give GSA, the government's housekeeping agency, "the necessary authority to integrate into its own control, or to compel coordination, of, all civilian agency storage."

LITTLE BOY, NO HOME — Little Kenny Casey, 2, looks sad as he is carried by Robert Ostler to the juvenile home at Chicago after the Ostlers said "We just can't take care of him anymore," and that "We've got three kids of our own." About a month ago Kenny's mother, Barbara, asked them to take care of the child for $18 a week while she took a job and "got on her feet." They haven't heard from the lad's mother since then. Police were informed but they couldn't find the mother.

It's 'Shakes Beer,' Not Shakespeare

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — A third grade student who recently visited the Enoch Pratt Free Library and received instruction in use of the card catalog returned today with her mother, eager to demonstrate her newly acquired knowledge.

Miss Rita Darin, children's librarian, said the youngster pulled out the "B" drawer and said importantly, "Now, Mother, you see you look up the name of the author in the catalog and you don't look it up by his first name. You look it up by his last.

"For instance," the youngster continued, "if you want to look up Shakespeare, you don't look under Shakes. You look under Beer."

School Segregation Ruling Probe Asked

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) today asked a Senate investigation of the Supreme Court's decision that race segregation in the public schools is unconstitutional.

Eastland said that Communist-front groups apparently had wielded influence on authorities cited by the court. He introduced a resolution proposing a Senate investigation.

Eastland said the court's unanimous decision of last May was "based solely and alone on psychological, sociological, and anthropological consideration" and not on law.

22-Year-Old Hospital Bill Paid With Interest

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 25 (AP)—It's better late than never—even when it comes to paying hospital bills.

Officials of Erlanger Hospital said today they received payment by mail of a bill incurred nearly 22 years ago—Oct. 11, 1933.

The bill was only $19.05, but the sender, who said her deceased father incurred the debt, added five per cent "interest" which she figured brought the total obligation to $41.00.

Dr. Jonas Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, developer of the vaccine, and six other medical experts were named to the watchdog committee. The Public Health Service said they will "recommend action on all lots of vaccine already produced but not yet released and all lots of the vaccine which will be produced in the future." The committee will hold its first meeting tomorrow.

Additional Judge Bill

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP) — A bill introduced today by Sen. Butler (R-Md) would authorized appointment of an additional federal district judge at Baltimore. Maryland now has two federal judges.

North African Violence Leaves 11 Persons Dead

PARIS, May 25 (AP)—Eleven persons have been killed in less than 24 hours in troubled French North Africa amid scenes of burning, pillage and other sabotage.

In the new surge of violence between the authorities and nationalist extremists the French debated whether to use a hard or soft policy to curb uprisings.

Most of the trouble centered in Algeria, politically a part of France itself. Four Algerians were reported slain today in the village of Beni-Imloul, between the Aures and Nemencha mountains.

Another report from Algiers said rebels ambushed a scout patrol convoy near Tebessa yesterday, killing 2 Frenchmen and 4 Arabs and capturing 26 other Arabs. The rebels burned the convoy's vehicles and made off with its arms and prisoners. Two companies of riflemen and two machine gun squads pursued the attackers.

Other violence reported included the burning of small railroad stations, pillage of farms and sabotage of vineyards by nationalist terrorists. There were no major clashes between French troops and nationalists. However, Paris newspapers reported intensified police operations, with at least 100 additional arrests.

Far to the west, at Casablanca in Morocco, a French protectorate, a local labor leader was assassinated.

Tuition Equalization Voted By School Board

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—The State Board of Education today voted to increase tuition payments to a school in one county which accepts pupils from an adjoining county.

The action affects several counties, but the most important instance is at Mt. Airy, where several hundred pupils from adjoining areas of Frederick County attend Carroll County schools.

The increase in tuition will be calculated as part of the State's equalization formula for school aid.

One phase of the compensation has provided a special allowance for building schools. The rate has been $15 a year for each elementary pupil accepted from an adjoining county and $20 for each high school pupil. The new rate will be $30 and $50 a year per pupil.

Wendell D. Allen, Baltimore attorney, and J. Jerome Framptom of Federalsburg, were reelected president and vice president of the board at its annual organizational meeting.

Copper Mistaken For Burglar Gets Clout Over Head

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Detective Sgt. William W. Friel, hunting a man wanted on a wife beating charge, stuck his head through an open window of a house early today after failing to get any response to a knock at the front door.

Annie Odum, 65, the occupant, was waiting for him with a club the size of a baseball bat, thinking he was a burglar. She let go, shattering his glasses and imbedding a fragment of glass in his eye.

The woman apologized, saying her home recently had been broken into and she thought this was a repeat performance.

Baltimore Democrats Outspent Republicans

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—Baltimore Democrats, who won the city elections earlier this month, spent more money than Republicans and used a higher percentage of their funds to pay the expenses of practical precinct work.

Studies of expense reports showed today that the Democrats who rode into office with Mayor D'Alesandro spent a total of $109,808.32, of which about half or $53,670 was used for election day expenses.

An estimate of Republican expenses indicates $67,419.45 was spent with proportionately more going for advertising.

The total for Republican advertising appeared from estimates to have been in the neighborhood of $34,000, or nearly half of what was spent. Only $12,950 of Republican money went for "runners, watchers" and other precinct workers on election day.

President To Address West Point Graduates

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower will make the commencement address at the United States Military Academy June 7—the first West Point graduate to address the cadets as chief executive.

The National Broadcasting Co. said today the speech will be televised in color from the West Point fieldhouse in a 30-minute program beginning at 9 a. m. EST. It will also be telecast in black and white.

Council, Planning Group Will Visit 9 State Agencies

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — The State Planning Commission today scheduled a series of visits to nine State agencies as the first step toward drawing up next year's building program.

The Legislative Council is to accompany commission members on the visits for the first time this year and I. Alvin Pasarew, planning commission director, said he hoped such joint visits would give the Legislature a better idea of what the commission is up against.

He noted the Legislature's flat five per cent cut in appropriation for all projects costing more than $50,000 had seriously crimped the University of Maryland library and other buildings.

"Indiscriminate cutting," Pasarew said, often causes a needless delay in construction and, at times, a costly redrawing of architect's plans.

Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th), who attended today's meeting, agreed the General Assembly might have been "penny wise and pound foolish" with some of its cuts.

He suggested Pasarew draw up a memorandum for the 1956 Legislature showing the results of the flat 5 per cent cuts.

The inspections trips scheduled were:

June 1 — Department of Motor Vehicles; June 9—St. Mary's Seminary Junior College and the Department of Research and Education's laboratory at Solomons; June 16—Civil Defense Headquarters and Maryland State Police, both in Pikesville, and the Department of Games and Inland Fish Hatchery at Lewistown; June 23 — Hall of Records, Department of Tidewater Fisheries, and Sandy Point State Park.

Two Youngsters Perish In Blaze

STEVENSVILLE, Md., May 25 (AP)—Two children died and three adults were burned or injured in a fire which swept a two-story frame house here early today.

The house was located near Chesapeake Bay Bridge on the Eastern Shore.

The children who died were Roberta Baxter, 2, and Richard T. Baxter, 4. They were asleep in an upstairs room when the fire broke out.

The three adults who were hurt in repeated attempts to save the children managed to carry a one-year-old baby to safety.

They were James Roe, 19-year-old farm hand whose arms were burned; Richard B. Baxter, the 35-year-old father of the children who suffered cuts of the arms and hands and Mrs. Marie Baxter, the 30-year-old mother, who suffered burns of the hands and feet.

Roe was burned attempting to make his way down a hall on the second floor to the children's room. He, too, slept on the second floor. He escaped by leaping out of a window.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter received their injuries trying to get upstairs to the children.

Man Loses Quarter In Robbery Attempt

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 25 (AP)—A robbery attempt cost a would-be bandit 25 cents today.

Mrs. Mary Cole, a 47-year-old waitress, said she was alone in a cafe when a young man entered and asked her to change a quarter. He handed her the money. As she turned to the cash register, he mumbled:

"This is a holdup."

Mrs. Cole screamed for the manager, W. L. Hall, who was sleeping in a back room.

The man fled, knife in hand, leaving his quarter behind.

Blood-Spattered Holdup Car Found

CATONSVILLE, Md., May 25 (AP)—Police found a blood-soaked stolen car in the woods near here today. It was identified as the car used earlier in a holdup.

The woods were being searched on the theory someone may have been beaten up or killed and left there. The front seat of the car was blood spattered and a slug from a .45 caliber pistol was found on the floor.

Carl Shifflet, attendant at a filling station at Route 40 and Route 29 in Howard County, was beaten and robbed of about $100 around 4 a. m. today by two young men in a gray car.

Shifflet told police the car found in the woods was the same one the young bandits used. It was a stolen car.

Callis Convicted On Bankruptcy Fraud Charges

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — Eugene M. Callis, whose oil and milk empire turned sour four years ago, was convicted in federal court today on four charges of cheating in a bankruptcy declaration.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen released Callis under $10,000 bail until Tuesday when he will impose sentence.

Callis once owned a $70,000 per month dairy operation called Kennersley Farms in Queen Anne's County, Md., and ran the Petrol Terminal Corp., a Philadelphia holding company.

He testified he lost his money when he tried to expand from oil distribution into oil refining and was caught in a drop in oil prices.

It was described as the only business mistake he made in a long and successful career.

The 53-year-old businessman was accused of concealing from bankruptcy officials eight insurance policies and a $28,000 account receivable.

He later borrowed $56,000 on the policies, but argued he had given them to his wife and a business associate and they were not his assets.

He also argued that because of a reorganization, he never expected to get the $28,000 from a Philadelphia oil subsidiary of Petrol.

The maximum penalty he faces next Tuesday is 20 years in prison and $20,000 fine.

U. P. Asks State Dept. Aid In Newsman Death Probe

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—The United Press today asked State Department aid in obtaining a "full and fair" investigation into the recent slaying of one of its officials in Singapore.

The official, Gene Symonds, U.P. manager for Southeast Asia, was killed by a Singapore mob while covering a bus strike.

U. P. President Frank H. Bartholomew wired Secretary of State John Foster Dulles asking for the department's help in getting the investigation made.

Officers Search For Note Writer In Girl's Slaying

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—Police searched today for a man named by an anonymous letter writer as having "pulled something out" of his car on the bridge under which Carolyn Wasilewski's body was found last November.

Though the letter was anonymous, police described it as "the most promising development in months" in the unsolved case.

The 14-year-old Carolyn's partially nude and beaten body was found on the railroad tracks near Pimlico race track.

A county fireman told of having seen a two-tone car on the bridge the night before the body was found.

The letter writer told police he was the owner of the car reported by the fireman. He said he was with a girl at the time and was surprised she had not come forth to tell police about it.

The anonymous writer said he had just returned from a long absence from the city. He said the other two-tone car he saw on the bridge was driven by a man described as about 35 years-old, five feet, eight inches tall and weighing "about 100 pounds."

The writer said he saw the man pull something out of the car which he thought was trash at the time, "but now I know better."

He said he traced the owner of the car through the license number. Police said today they were searching not only for the man named in the letter but for the writer of the letter, as well.

Immediate Naming Of New Judges Urged

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — The Judicial Council of the Fourth Circuit today urged immediate filling of the vacancy to be created June 1 by the retirement of Federal Judge William C. Coleman.

The council also asked that an additional judgeship be created. It said both moves are essential to the efficient operation of justice in the area.

The recommendations were made in a resolution adopted by Chief Judge John J. Parker of the Fourth Circuit and Circuit Judges Morris A. Soper and Armistead M. Dobie.

Copies of the resolution were made available to the U.S. attorney general, the director of the administrative office of the U. S. courts, the chairman of the Senate and House of Representatives and to U.S. Sens. Butler and Beall (R-Md.).

Jobless Benefit Claims Rise Slightly

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation last week were still below the level reached at the same time last year despite a slight increase over the previous week, the State Department of Employment Security said today.

There were 2,525 new claims week before last and 2,720 last week.

During the third week of May last year, there were 4,415 new claims. In 1953, one of the State's best employment years, there were in the third week of May 1,895 new claims.

A good part of last week's gain was attributed to a slight softening in the employment picture at Crisfield, Oakland and Elkton. Claims at Oakland doubled from 25 the week before last to 50; there was a jump from 24 to 95 at Crisfield and a raise of from 11 to 92 at Elkton.

Up until last week, new claims were in a steady decline from the seasonal peak usually reached in April, the beginning of the new benefit year from a standpoint of eligibility.

The Department paid out last week $432,546 to 19,861 eligibles.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, May 24 (INS) — A dear little first-grader we know, name of Deborah, is in the process of learning "The Apostles' Creed," but has found one portion of it difficult to put to memory.

The other night she plunged daintily into the monumental prayer as far as ". . . communion of saints, forgiveness of . . . forgiveness of . . . forgiveness of . . ." her voice trailed off. She was stumped for the next word.

"Sins, dear," her mother prompted. "Forgiveness of sins."

The little girl tried again but failed at the same place.

"Don't you know what a sin is?" I asked her.

She shook her head and earnestly explained:

"We haven't gotten that far yet, dad."

Radio Free Europe, which does a fine job of telling the free world's story to the people behind the Iron Curtain, recently received a letter from a Czechoslovakian magician. The man's lament was that he had worn out all of his tricks, couldn't replace them in the Communist countries, and was faced with loss of his means of livelihood unless Radio Free Europe could get him some new stuff from the U. S.

He attached a list of 98 magical novelties he needed to stay in his profession. Libby Ogren, of Radio Free Europe, writes:

"High on the list was the 'beat—all rabbit vanish' and speculation is that his next date will be for a disappearing act on the borderline."

Gen. Nathan Farragut Twining, who should be the next chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (otherwise the nation will lose his incomparable services via forced retirement), spoke the language of the airman when he said:

"As our technology improves, our strength tends to become more dependent on quality. A thousand interceptors that could not fly as high as an enemy bomber would not be as good as one that could fly higher.

"Our most important job is to keep our Air Force planes and equipment superior to the Soviets. . . . On the other side of the sound barrier we have found the so-called thermal barrier. It is not really a barrier, but it is like a swamp which gets deeper and thicker the farther we travel into it. There is no speed at which we can leave this problem behind, for as we go faster we cause higher temperatures from the friction of the air over the aircraft surfaces.

"We will lick this problem by developing new materials or new ways of using what we have."

Quality costs money, which is the reason why the Air Force is asking $14,530,000,000 of Congress as opposed to the Navy's $8,918,000,000 and the Army's $7,289,000,000. Some medium jet engines alone cost $250,000 each. The production model of our top fighter costs just under $800,000 (as opposed to about $50,000 for our best World War II fighters.) The 8-jet B-52, which one day will replace the slower 10-engined B-36, costs $7,500,000 per copy — as much as we paid for Alaska, and half as much as Jefferson shelled out for "Louisiana," out of which was carved all or most of Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska.

There a good new book out on booze and how to handle it. It's called "Man Takes a Drink," by John C. Ford, S. J., published by P. J. Kennedy and Sons, New York. The cover features an old adage from the Orient:

Let the thirsty think
What they say in Japan:
"First the man takes a drink,
Then the drink takes a drink,
Then the drink takes the man."

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, May 24 (INS) — A dear little first-grader we know, name of Deborah, is in the process of learning "The Apostles' Creed," but has found one portion of it difficult to put to memory.

The other night she plunged daintily into the monumental prayer as far as "... communion of saints, forgiveness of ... forgiveness of ... forgiveness of ..." her voice trailed off. She was stumped for the next word.

"Sins, dear," her mother prompted. "Forgiveness of sins."

The little girl tried again but failed at the same place.

"Don't you know what a sin is?" I asked her.

She shook her head and earnestly explained:

"We haven't gotten that far yet, dad."

Radio Free Europe, which does a fine job of telling the free world's story to the people behind the Iron Curtain, recently received a letter from a Czechoslovakian magician. The man's lament was that he had worn out all of his tricks, couldn't replace them in the Communist countries, and was faced with loss of his means of livelihood unless Radio Free Europe could get him some new stuff from the U. S.

He attached a list of 98 magical novelties he needed to stay in his profession. Libby Ogren, of Radio Free Europe, writes:

"High on the list was the 'beat—all rabbit vanish' and speculation is that his next date will be for a disappearing act on the borderline."

Gen. Nathan Farragut Twining, who should be the next chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (otherwise the nation will lose his incomparable services via forced retirement), spoke the language of the airman when he said:

"As our technology improves, our strength tends to become more dependent on quality. A thousand interceptors that could not fly as high as an enemy bomber would not be as good as one that could fly higher.

"Our most important job is to keep our Air Force planes and equipment superior to the Soviets. . . . On the other side of the sound barrier we have found the so-called thermal barrier. It is not really a barrier, but it is like a swamp which gets deeper and thicker the farther we travel into it. There is no speed at which we can leave this problem behind, for as we go faster we cause higher temperatures from the friction of the air over the aircraft surfaces.

"We will lick this problem by developing new materials or new ways of using what we have."

Quality costs money, which is the reason why the Air Force is asking $14,530,000,000 of Congress as opposed to the Navy's $8,918,000,000 and the Army's $7,289,000,000. Some medium jet engines alone cost $250,000 each. The production model of our top fighter costs just under $800,000 (as opposed to about $50,000 for our best World War II fighters.) The 8-jet B-52, which one day will replace the slower 10-engined B-36, costs $7,500,000 per copy — as much as we paid for

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By Lichty

"Our automatic weapons program is progressing rapidly, gentlemen! . . . Soon, human beings won't be needed in any phase of war except getting us into one . . ."

Alaska, and half as much as Jefferson shelled out for "Louisiana," out of which was carved all or most of Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska.

At the punch-bowl's brink
Let the thirsty think
What they say in Japan:
"First the man takes a drink,
Then the drink takes a drink,
Then the drink takes the man."

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 25 (INS) — You can put all those rumors right out the window that William Powell has applied for his pension from MGM and will retire. Nothing is further from Bill's mind, especially since his hit in "Mister Roberts."

In fact, I can tell you that any hour Bill will sign a contract to play the father in "Lady Eve," George Gobel's motion picture. If you remember the original "Lady Eve," Charles Coburn played the gambling father and was as cute as beans.

By the time this is in print, unless something unexpected happens, Director Norman Taurog will get Mitzi Gaynor for the inimitable Gobel's leading lady.

Dan Dailey is just hankering to take his bride, Gwen O'Connor, on a belated honeymoon and he has been eager to write it off as a business venture.

This he can do if he signs a deal with Bob Goldstein to star in a "who dunnit" called "The Blind Mirror," which Bob is planning to produce in Paris in June. Day says that he would like to get away from musicals for a change, but I'm betting he'll be back soon dancing and singing.

Joan Blondell sounded in great form when I talked to her over the long distance telephone. She said, "I haven't a crystal ball, and I can't tell whether I'll marry anyone, but at this moment I can tell you that I've seen Hal Hayes exactly twice.

"Right now," Joan continued, "I'm more interested in my career than anything else. I start rehearsals June 20 in a stage play, 'A Palm Tree in a Rose Garden,' for Jose Quintero. We play four weeks out of town and then — I hope, — we'll move into Broadway."

I haven't heard Joan sound as happy in years, and I hope she'll have a smash hit.

Chatter in Hollywood:

When John Derek moved out of his home and went to the Sarahan motel, there was talk that he and his wife, Patti, had come to a parting of the ways.

Patti telephoned me and said, "John did spend one night in a motel, but he has been home since Sunday. We did have a quarrel, as any married people do, but everything is alright now. He is working very hard on his role in 'The Ten Commandments' and he wants to be so good."

When Zsa Zsa Gabor heard that I was going to Istanbul, she said that her first husband, Burhan Belge, is now a senator there and very important.

"He writes to me and I'll give you a letter of introduction. He came to Budapest when I was only 14 and fell in love with me. He is called 'your excellency'."

I asked Zsa Zsa if she was annoyed with her mother for saying that she wasn't going to marry Rubirosa.

"I'm not annoyed. How can anyone be annoyed with a mother, but I think she shouldn't discuss my private affairs. I can't marry him now. I'm going into summer stock for two months and then I have a TV show, besides I want to live in California," she said.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Liberace's teeth reflected so much light in his screen tests that they'll be toned down with a coating for his picture.

George Raft is giving Jan Valerie advice on her career. She and Al Allardale are no longer thata'way.

James Dean and Nick Adams have had offers from four Las Vegas clubs to do their comedy take-off in which Dean plays Elia Kazan and Adams plays Marlon Brando.

That nice guy Frankie Laine is buying uniforms for the senior baseball team of Boston's Christopher Columbus Youth Center.

Charlton Heston says this is positively the last time his three months old son will act in movies! He has had his hands full getting the baby ready to play the infant Moses in "Ten Commandments," what with getting him a social security number and arranging to pay unemployment insurance for the child.

Attorney Jake Erlich's son-in-law guy Cherney has recorded "The Kentuckian," the theme song of the Hecht-Lancaster picture, for Mercury Records.

Jon Hall takes off for Honolulu to visit Linda Dansen, who was chosen from a bevy of starlets to pose for fashion layouts there.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Business License Deadline Is Near

Beginning next Wednesday, all Allegany County business firms belatedly purchasing state general business licenses from the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of circuit Court, will be charged a 10 per cent penalty.

Boden explained that the licenses are due each May 1 but the state allows a month's grace before charging interest. Among the licenses which must be purchased by 4 p. m. Tuesday to avoid penalty are traders' licenses, others for moving picture theatres, garages, laundries, cigaret machines, soda fountains, construction firms, music boxes, solid fuel dealers, plumbers, restaurants and storage warehouses.

The clerk's office will be open all day today and tomorrow until noon on Saturday and then all day Tuesday after the Memorial Day holiday.

Danville 4-H Girls Conduct Service At Dawson Methodist

McCOOLE — At a recent meeting of Danville 4-H Club in the Dawson Methodist Church, the club voted to attend the regular Sunday church school, last Sunday morning and they turned out in a body.

Shirley Groves played a piano solo, "Onward Christian Soldiers," and Sarah Staggs rendered an accordion solo, "The National Anthem," for the processional, in which William and Carol Tichnell were flag bearers. The 4-H members gave the 4-H pledge, following the hymn, "This Is My Father's World," sung by the congregation.

The call to worship was given by Dorothy Carskadon and prayer was given by Bonnie Clem, after which the members sang "Follow the Gleam," and a poem, "My Mom," was presented by Nancy Vandervort. The congregation sang "Heavenly Sunlight" and benediction was pronounced by Elizabeth Van Pelt.

The 4-H group also attended the regular evening church service, with 18 members forming the choir. Mrs. Jessie Vandervort is the local club leader.

Chief Flynn Asks Careful Driving Over Memorial Day

Police Chief R. E. Flynn issued the following warning yesterday to Memorial Day motorists:

"Slow down—it will save you money, as well as your life."

National Safety Council figures indicate that gas consumption per mile at 65 miles per hour is 30 per cent greater than at 40, Chief Flynn said, and wear on your tires is two and a half times as great.

Traffic deaths during the Memorial Day holidays—there's a three-day weekend again this year, just as in 1954—will probably match last year's national all-time high of 351, Chief Flynn warned.

Besides keeping well within speed limits, he urged motorists planning long trips over the holidays to observe the following rules recommended by the Automobile Club of America.

Stay in line—and slow down before all curves and intersections. Make a coffee stop every two hours—and walk around and stretch a bit. Change drivers occasionally on long trips. When you're sleepy, if you're driving alone, pull off the road and have a nap.

St. Mary's Club Will Install

Installation of officers and a style show by the high school girls, modeling the clothes they have made, will feature the meeting of the St. Mary's Mothers Club tonight. A covered dish supper at 6:30 will precede the meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Mullan will be inducted as president; Mrs. Charlotte Russell, vice president; Mrs. Verna Hymes, secretary; and Mrs. Edward Mattingly, treasurer. Final plans are to be made for the breakfast Sunday for the high school graduates; and the breakfast June 9 for the eighth grade graduates.

The club sponsored two activities recently. The one was the annual eighth grade patrol trip to Gettysburg, which was attended by 34 pupils. They went in the St. Mary's School bus and had a picnic lunch. The trip included seeing the electrical map describing the battle; a guided tour of the battlefield; peace light, Spangler spring and President Eisenhower's farm home.

Seventy-two first communicants were entertained at an all-day picnic at Marydale, Oldtown Road. They were served lunch, and played games, sang songs and each child was given a prize. The race for boys was won by Joseph Decker, and Patricia Coyle won the one for girls. James Hudson won the ball tossing contest for boys; and Vicki Baker, for the girls. The second grade class mothers were chaperones with Mrs. Clarence Englebach and Mrs. Mullan in charge.

St. Mary's Club Will Install

Installation of officers and a style show by the high school girls, modeling the clothes they have made, will feature the meeting of the St. Mary's Mothers Club tonight. A covered dish supper at 6:30 will precede the meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Mullan will be inducted as president; Mrs. Charlotte Russell, vice president; Mrs. Verna Hymes, secretary; and Mrs. Edward Mattingly, treasurer. Final plans are to be made for the breakfast Sunday for the high school graduates; and the breakfast June 9 for the eighth grade graduates.

The club sponsored two activities recently. The one was the annual eighth grade patrol trip to Gettysburg, which was attended by 34 pupils. They went in the St. Mary's School bus and had a picnic lunch. The trip included seeing the electrical map describing the battle; a guided tour of the battlefield; peace light, Spangler spring and President Eisenhower's farm home.

Seventy-two first communicants were entertained at an all-day picnic at Marydale, Oldtown Road. They were served lunch, and played games, sang songs and each child was given a prize. The race for boys was won by Joseph Decker, and Patricia Coyle won the one for girls. James Hudson won the ball tossing contest for boys; and Vicki Baker, for the girls. The second grade class mothers were chaperones with Mrs. Clarence Englebach and Mrs. Mullan in charge.

Testimony Ends In Arbitration

An arbiter yesterday completed hearing testimony in Allegany County Court House in a dispute between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, and Celanese Corporation of America.

Hearing the dispute submitted to arbitration by both parties was Samuel Jaffee, Washington arbiter.

The case involves the payment of technological allowances in the Customer Beaming Department at the Amcelle Plant, and crossing of seniority division lines, according to Melvin Harris, president of the local.

The union's case was presented by Lester Jay, TWUA international representative, and Harris.

William A. Gunter, local attorney, was counsel for Celanese Corporation.

Turnbull Discusses Men's Church Work

A group of men from Episcopal churches in Allegany and Garrett counties last night heard a discussion of the men's work in the church by Douglas C. Turnbull Jr., executive assistant to the president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Turnbull told the men, meeting in the parish house of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, that all of them should attempt to bring some spiritual significance into their daily work.

The speaker, a former national president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, said he disagreed with the concept some people have that a church should be a "gallery of saints." Instead, he referred to the church as a "workshop of sinners" attempting to improve their lives by good works.

He concluded with a discussion of the work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. There are 23 chapters of the brotherhood in the Diocese of Maryland.

Phil Drake, French Colt, Is English Derby Victor

176th Running Of Event Won By 100-8 Shot

300,000, Including Queen Elizabeth, See 1½-Mile Turf Classic

By JOHN FARROW

EPSOM, England, May 25 (AP) — French invader Phil Drake dashed into the lead in the final 50 yards today and brought victory to pretty Suzy Volterra of Paris in the 176th running of the famed English Derby.

A crowd estimated at 300,000, including Queen Elizabeth and the royal family, watched as the 100-8 chance flashed across the finish a length and a half in front of the Irish longshot, Panaslipper.

Panaslipper Finishes Second

Panaslipper, who went off at 100-1, was three lengths ahead of Alice, Lady Derby's Acropolis, the 11-4 favorite in the field of 23 starters. Panaslipper is owned by Joseph McGrath, managing director of the Irish Hospitals Trust, which runs a big sweepstakes on the Derby. McGrath won the 1951 Derby with Arctic Prince.

Phil Drake is the fourth French colt since the end of World War II to capture the great mile and one half turf classic, and Mrs. Volterra is only the third woman in the history of the race dating to 1780 to own a winner. She is the widow of Leon Volterra, Paris movie magnate, who was unlucky in the race he tried many times to win.

British horses failed for the second year in a row. In 1954 the 33-1 longshot Never Say Die, bred in Kentucky, won for American owner Robert Sterling Clark of New York and Upperville, Va.

Two American Horses

There were two American owned colts in today's race, run in perfect sunny weather, but both finished out of the money. They were Bryn, a French colt owned by Robert Strassburger, formerly of Norristown, Pa., and a longtime resident of France, and Solarium, a British colt. Solarium is owned by Gerald Albertini, heir to an American railroad fortune, now residing near London.

First money was $52,645.60.

All of the starters carried 126 pounds, and the winner was timed in 2:39 4-5, six seconds off the Derby record set in 1936 by Mahmoud.

Don Cockell Leaves For Trip Back Home

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — Don Cockell, British heavyweight boxing champ who lost to American champ Rocky Marciano, sailed for home today saying he'd fight Marciano again anytime.

But neither Cockell nor his manager, John Simpson, would comment on the possibility of a return fight.

The NFL champion Cleveland Browns will play an exhibition game against the Green Bay Packers on Aug. 20 at Akron, Ohio.

Don Cockell Leaves For Trip Back Home

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — Don Cockell, British heavyweight boxing champ who lost to American champ Rocky Marciano, sailed for home today saying he'd fight Marciano again anytime.

But neither Cockell nor his manager, John Simpson, would comment on the possibility of a return fight.

The NFL champion Cleveland Browns will play an exhibition game against the Green Bay Packers on Aug. 20 at Akron, Ohio.

Guardsmen, Doctors Help

Lt. Thomas Conlon, communications officer, and his men will string some five miles of wire over the route for communications and timing purposes, and will use telephone as well as radio for contact between the start and finish lines and stations in between.

Dr. Skitarelic said a number of local physicians have volunteered to be on hand, and will be at various places along the route to handle any emergencies which might arise.

County commissioners and other officials have been more than helpful and are lending their fullest cooperation, Dr. Skitarelic said.

Speaking of local interest in the event, Dr. Skitarelic said the cooperation of residents in the area, the firemen, the sports car people, businessmen, hotels and motels, police, state and local, National Guardsmen, press and radio, has been so encouraging, that there is no doubt that thousands will attend the unusual spectacle.

From outside the area, visitors in great numbers are expected. And once they come here and see the beautiful setting of this event, they will want to come back again and again, the doctor believes. He thinks this event will do more to publicize the natural beauty of Western Maryland than anything ever before attempted.

Because of the type of event, it has been necessary to eliminate some classes of sports cars, Dr. Skitarelic said. Thus, there will not be as many sports cars entered, as were seen at the National races here two weeks ago. However, there will be the finest cars built, and enough (more than 50 or 60) to make the day eventful and thrilling.

42 Trophies In Contest

The firemen have purchased 42 silver trophies to be awarded to the winners of the various events. These trophies are all the rewards the sports car enthusiasts receive for their efforts. They come to these events at their own expense, pay their own way in every respect, and will not race otherwise. They compete only in events sponsored for some worthwhile project or organization, especially of a charitable nature. Proceeds from the event Sunday will be utilized by the Flintstone firemen to augment its equipment and facilities and to finance other local community welfare projects in which they engage.

Children under 12 years of age will be admitted to the races without charge, if accompanied by their parents. A nominal charge will be made for the adult spectators.

In the event of rain Sunday, the races will be held on the same schedule on Memorial Day.

Market Continues Advance As Trading Takes Upturn

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — The stock market made it two advances in a row today with expanded business a feature of the rise.

Volume came to 2,100,000 shares. That is well below the daily average so far this year, but the significant fact is the striking increase from yesterday's 1,650,000.

Railroads and aircrafts were the strong divisions today with aluminum issues posting increases that went to around 5 points at the best.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 90 cents at $163.80. It was ahead 40 cents yesterday. The average now is only $3 away from April 26 record.

Two of the three components of the average were higher today—industrials up 80 cents and railroads up $1.70 while utilities remained unchanged.

Wisconsin Electric power was the day's most active issue up 1¼ at 34 on 28,700 shares including a block of 27,000 shares at 33.

Addressograph - Multigraph was up 4½ on a good earnings report. Bullard gained 2½, and after the close directors declared the usual dividend of 50 cents.

Among wider gainers were Kaiser Aluminum up 3¼, Aluminium Ltd. 1¾, Reynolds Metals 5, Aluminum Co. of America 4¾, and Missouri Pacific Prefered 4.

Market Continues Advance As Trading Takes Upturn

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — The stock market made it two advances in a row today with expanded business a feature of the rise.

Volume came to 2,100,000 shares. That is well below the daily average so far this year, but the significant fact is the striking increase from yesterday's 1,650,000.

Railroads and aircrafts were the strong divisions today with aluminum issues posting increases that went to around 5 points at the best.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 90 cents at $163.80. It was ahead 40 cents yesterday. The average now is only $3 away from April 26 record.

Two of the three components of the average were higher today—industrials up 80 cents and railroads up $1.70 while utilities remained unchanged.

Wisconsin Electric power was the day's most active issue up 1¼ at 34 on 28,700 shares including a block of 27,000 shares at 33.

Addressograph - Multigraph was up 4½ on a good earnings report. Bullard gained 2½, and after the close directors declared the usual dividend of 50 cents.

Among wider gainers were Kaiser Aluminum up 3¼, Aluminium Ltd. 1¾, Reynolds Metals 5, Aluminum Co. of America 4¾, and Missouri Pacific Prefered 4.

Adenauer's Victory Good For West

Germans reacted stoically when the black-red-gold banner of the West German Republic rose over the capital at Bonn. Their new state had achieved sovereignty and the right to rearm, but there was no waltzing in the streets — as there was in Vienna as Austrians hailed the treaty restoring their country's independence. The Germans were not in a dancing mood.

Nor can they be expected to be as long as Germany remains divided. But there is no indication that their state of mind need cause loss of sleep to the statesmen who brought the West German state into existence and made it an equal partner in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Western European Union.

The Germans, knowing that the unification of their country is far off, cannot rejoice — but they know that they have taken the best course open to them and they are prepared to follow it.

This is again manifest in the results of the election in the Rhineland-Palatinate. The two million voters of the state gave Chancellor Adenauer his greatest victory at the polls in the last two years. Adenauer's party won a majority of the seats in the state parliament, increasing its total from 43 to 51.

The Socialists challenged the government's foreign policy and their position cost them support. The residents of the Rhineland-Palatinate evidently do not believe that the German people can achieve their legitimate aspirations, including real independence as well as unity, by listening to the siren song from Moscow.

Against the background of recent developments in Paris, in Vienna and in Warsaw, these German election results come as a hopeful portent.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Aneurin Bevan

LONDON — Britain's bad boy is Aneurin Bevan, an evangelical, primitive Socialist who goes his own way, shattering before him whatever does not fit his concept of life. He is now engaged in splitting his own Labor party which, if it is defeated in this election, could fall apart into three sections, Bevan leading one of them. It is possible both to underestimate and overestimate this man; the significance of his political activity is that he cannot be ignored. The Labor party stands for managerial socialism which is more like the New Deal in the United States. They would have government controls over the life of the people and government ownership of those phases of the British economy which are monopolistic or tend to become monopolistic. But they are not ideological Marxists, coming closer to a Norman Thomas Socialist than to a Communist.

The most important economic problem in this country is raising the standard of living of the people. Wages are comparatively low. The average annual income of a typical male clerk or a female stenographer would be about 400 pounds which is about 1150 dollars; the average female industrial worker about 300 pounds or 750 dollars; the average male industrial worker under 21 about 250 pounds or about 600 dollars. This provides a picture of income and purchasing power. Instalment buying is not highly developed and is not encouraged because the fear of inflation is very great.

The Labor party wants wages increased and the standard of living raised by government controls and by what they regard as scientific methods; the Conservatives believe in competition and creating demands for more products by prosperity which depends to a great degree upon an export trade. The Conservatives are impressed by American methods of creating mass consumers and mass production industries. The Laborites, who are Socialists, have many reservations about American methods. Both parties wonder what mass production and particularly automation can do to social conditions in a comparatively small country. Aneurin Bevan runs across this discussion with early 20th Century arguments of the Keir Hardie type which no longer fit the conditions of these times. But that makes little difference because his emotionalism, his oratory, his stimulation of discontent give him an important following despite full employment and a rising wage scale.

It is to be noted that no improvements affect those who live on old age pensions, who have become the new poor. As long as full employment exists, Bevan's arguments arouse interest but do not give him prime leadership. As a matter of fact, the opposition to him is strongest in the trade unions. But it is admitted on all sides that if the economy suffered a setback, if conditions inside or outside affected Great Britain, so that unemployment returned, there is no telling what Bevan could accomplish politically. He might reach leadership in the Labor party and even become prime minister. Bevan is anti-American although it is not clear whether that is a political maneuver like a mayor of Chicago threatening to punch King George's nose to get votes, or is a support of Soviet Russia which Bevan does not openly support.

Even his enemies deny that Bevan is a Communist, although they are not able to describe exactly what he is because his ideas do not fit a pattern. They only know that he makes trouble for everybody and revels in it. Here any man who has reached the political level that he is considered as a possible prime minister, takes on a greater political significance than a possible presidential candidate does in the United States. That is due to the parliamentary system which gives past, present and potential prime ministers a forum. Lloyd George killed the Liberal party on the anvil of his ambitions: it is feared by Laborites that Aneurin Bevan may do the same to the Labor party.

Eisenhower Makes Clear His Position That He Will Not Run For Re-Election

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The President recently held another of his famous stag dinners for which the guest list is no longer available, but at which he made his views clearer than ever that he did not intend to run for a second term.

Those who attended the dinner came away convinced he meant what he said.

"I've had it," was what one dinner guest quoted him as saying.

He went on to say that no political party should be dependent on one man. He explained that he had never had a vacation in his entire life and was tired. The only let-up he ever had from the stress and strain of military duties was when he was president of Columbia University, and that, he said, was no vacation.

The President also complained about his bursitis, said it was the result of tension and nerves. So he said he felt he deserved a chance to go up to his Gettysburg farm and relax.

The dinner meeting lasted from about 7:30 to 11:45 with a lot of politics discussed. But the politics that directly affected the President seemed quite definite.

Hoover's Leaks

Herbert Hoover has been sore as blazes at this writer for publishing advance copies of some of his government reorganization reports.

Mr. Hoover has squawked about it vocally and vigorously, though privately. In fact, he's been so irked that he's given orders that all task-force reports on government reorganization be "classified" and he's threatened to prosecute anyone leaking information to Pearson.

It would appear that Mr. Hoover is not too familiar with the law. Because his reports pertain not to military or defense secrets but only to problems of bureaucracy and red tape. And never in the entire history of the United States has it been against the law to publish information pertaining to efficiency in government.

Apparently Mr. Hoover hasn't changed much. When in the White House he also used to be riled over news leaks, asked publishers to fire newsmen who published embarrassing stories.

So I hope he won't get too upset over today's leak about news leaks to Pearson.

Merry-Go-Round

The Navy's inspector general has now moved in at Cheatham Annex near Newport News, Va., where I reported top Navy brass were using naval civilians to dig oysters for their benefit at the taxpayers' expenses. The inspector general has seized the guest register at the officers' club showing the visiting VIP's and their wives . . . Jack Puerifoy, the former palpitating, pistol-packing ambassador to Guatemala who mussed that country up quite a bit, has been in Washington hiding out from newsmen. Only mistake he made was to be wined and dined by Dictator Franco's lobbyist Charles P. Clark, who always puts the names of his guests in the newspapers . . . Siamese, where Puerifoy is now ambassador, say they miss the master-hand of former Ambassador Bill Donovan. They had a big reunion with Donovan at Governor Harriman's executive mansion in Albany, N. Y.

Cain Mutiny

The next chapter in the "Cain Mutiny" occurs today when ex-Sen. Harry Cain, the Republican whom Eisenhower appointed to the Subversives Control Board, testifies against Eisenhower's own loyalty and security risk program.

When Cain was in the Senate from Washington State, he was an ardent advocate of higher rents, less public housing, defended Joe McCarthy's war record and favored the Taft-Hartley Act.

But now that he's on the Subversive Control Board Cain tells friends he's had more time to think. The trouble with senators, he says, is that they're always running errands for constituents or worrying about getting re-elected. So today, Cain has become the most ardent Republican enemy of witch-hunting in the capital.

Today he will testify before Sen. Olin Johnson of South Carolina who's probing security risks. Cain plans to point out, as he did earlier this week, that the attorney general's list of subversives is outmoded and misleading, with only 30 organizations out of 275 actually Communist.

He also plans to point out that the United States is a long way from being in danger of communism from within.

TV Politics

Playing politics in handing out TV licenses is getting worse. Here is the latest piece of political parlaying.

In Peoria, Ill., two ultra high frequency TV stations, WIRL and WMBD, are locked in a deadly battle. One of them, WMBD, and its owner, Charles Caley, are backed financially by the Jefferson Trust and Savings Company which in turn is represented legally by Davis, Witherell and Somme, the law firm of Sen. Everett Dirksen, Illinois Republican, who lives in the Peoria-Pekin area.

When a TV application is in litigation before the Federal Communication Commission, an applicant is not supposed to approach a commissioner any more than a litigant can approach a judge during a court trial. But the other day Caley came to Washington and, through Senator Dirksen's office, talked to Commissioners Lee and Doerfer, the two McCarthy men on the FCC.

Red Strategy In British Election May Be Important

By David Lawrence

LONDON — The Communist strategy in the British election campaign may prove of far more importance in the long run than the outcome of the elections themselves. For the Communists are waiting to pick up the pieces if the Socialist Labor party is defeated, as seems likely.

Outwardly the Communist party is running candidates in only 17 districts out of 630. In most of the other districts, they have given instructions openly to their followers to support the Socialist Labor party candidates. The underground tactics, however, in several districts are to support the Conservatives. The object, of course, is to bring about a Conservative victory but by the narrowest of margins possible. Curiously enough, the liberals—or third party—have put new life into their campaign and are running more than 100 candidates. This may cut down some of the majority of the Conservatives because, in a three-cornered race, the Conservatives stand to lose some votes to the Liberals.

Given Impetus

Thus, the middle-of-the road approach has been given impetus with the cry that the Socialist Labor party and the Conservative party each represent extremes and that the best way is to vote "liberal" so as "to tame the Tories (Conservatives)" by holding down their parliamentary majority.

Very little is being said in the campaign about the Communist tactics, though it is conceded that the moment the election is over a big battle will start inside the Socialist Labor party between the so-called "right wing" and "left wing" factions. The latter is headed up by Aneurin Bevan, who has been slamming away without restraint at the Conservatives. In one speech he likened them to "swine." In another speech he said that Christianity and Conservatism are inconsistent, whereupon the Conservatives struck back with the cry that he had called a lot of respectable Britishers "heathens."

If the Labor party loses, the Bevanites will claim that the Attlee, Morrison and Gaitskell leadership has been discredited and that more aggressive policies are needed — such as more instead of less nationalization and more opposition to American policies in the world, plus the prohibition of the use of the hydrogen bomb by Britain and her allies. This will be meat for the Communists, of course, whose main objective seems to be to promote and intensify discord and disunity all along the line.

Shows Communist Intrigue

Something of the nature of the Communist intrigue can be derived from a story being told about the British newspaper strike which ran 26 days. Although it was initiated by two small unions of mechanical employes, one dominated by Communist officers, the other unions did not dare to go to work independently. Finally, in a sensational conference between one of the leaders of the strike and Sir Walter Monckton, minister of labor in the Conservative government, the union spokesman who was a Communist admitted that the purpose of the strike was to promote as much trouble as possible for the nation. When Sir Walter threatened to tell the House of Commons the full story, the labor leader agreed to terms.

It is significant that Sir Hartley Shawcross, attorney general in the last Socialist Labor government, in a campaign speech a few days ago about the wave of unofficial strikes and jurisdictional disputes said that many were "inspired by Communists." Then he declared that "in the nature of things, it is easier for a labor government to handle this sort of situation, in close consultation with the Trade Union Congress and to ensure better discipline and loyalty to negotiated agreements, than the Tories (Conservatives)."

The spectacle of a right-wing member of the Socialist Labor party telling his constituents that his party can handle the Communists better than the Conservatives brings smiles to the Communists, who hope to produce more strife by keeping the large number of union members in a constant battle with other unions, especially over jurisdictional matters. Thus, the moderate non-Communist union leaders are caught in the middle. They find their greatest obstacle is the lack of interest among the rank and file who fail to attend local meetings and hence permit the Communists to rig all sorts of maneuvers with which the majority do not really agree.

Strikes Helped Conservatives

The Conservatives have been trying to avoid getting into a campaign argument about the current strikes which threaten both the docks and the railroads. The Labor party speakers nevertheless are whispering that the Conservatives are preparing legislation to restrict the right to strike. One veteran union leader, Sir Will Lawther, former head of the coal miners, remarked that the recent wildcat strikes have done the Socialist Labor party's chances of winning this election more harm than anything the Conservatives could do.

There are rumors that, if the Conservatives get a comfortable majority, they will be inclined to put some curbs on Communist activities in Britain. For here is a democracy which doesn't see many persons openly aligned with the Communist party but suffers grievously nevertheless as a result of the mischief promoted by an underground force directed from Moscow.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

When Fiorello LaGuardia brewed homemade beer in his congressional office he was doing a Fiji fire dance on the front burners.

But when Fiorello took the slapsticks away from the New York rurales he set law and order back further than buttons on a rattler.

There was something about five cents worth of hickory that inspired sober second thoughts in a roustabout. Well-seasoned timber could be depended on to give you an extra lump to think with.

Seventy-five years ago a Manhattan copper said, "There is more law and order in the end of a nightstick than there is in a night court."

Thirty years ago the riot squad raided the dead-falls and hideaways of the neighbors' children. They were equipped with croquet mallets, billiard cues and baseball bats in case anybody wanted to choose up sides.

And in case of a tie they had over-age destroyers consisting of long-handled sappisters, six yards of picket fence and straight-edged boomerangs with proximity fuses.

The fame of the exuberant squad accumulated to the point when a hood would arrest himself. He would grab the back of his own neck and plead, "The collar—not the sap."

The collar of course is the pinch. The sap does not run in trees.

LaGuardia decided he could reduce the sensitivity of municipal serenity by confining the sap to Vermont sugar maples in the spring.

He took the knuckle-loaders away from the cops and substituted finesse, suavity and five for neatness.

You know the rest, in the books you have read, how the British soldiers fired and fled. The teenagers toddled up and took over, lock, stock and good red herring.

Now, there's a movement on foot for Birnam Wood to come to Dunsinane. And once again will MacDuff's rookies be laying on with their knob-kerries.

Debate On Satellite

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

With a determined but not very expensive effort, it should be possible to launch an artificial satellite into space about this time next year. This, at least, is the contention of leading technicians in the missile field, who have submitted to the Pentagon plans for launching a man-made heavenly body in about 12 months.

Until recently, it was thought that it would take at least two years to put a satellite into space. But recent technological breakthroughs in the missile art have made it possible—at least in the opinion of some qualified technicians—to halve this estimate.

If the Pentagon approves the project, the object to be shot into space so soon will not be much to look at. The plans call for an object only about nine inches in diameter, of the simplest and lightest possible construction. To save weight and bulk—which is of course all important—the little thing will contain no instruments at all, other than a radar-response device to permit it to be tracked by radar on its journeyings around the globe.

Will Disintegrate

The purists in such matters insist that the object will not be a true earth satellite, but rather an "orbital vehicle." The purists are right, in the sense that such an object will not remain forever in space, like the moon. Instead, it will spiral very gradually back towards earth, after some weeks or months of circling the globe, and when it reaches the denser atmosphere close to earth, it will disintegrate.

Obviously, the tiny thing will have no immediate military application whatever. For this reason, a debate has been going on in the Defense Department, about whether or not it is worth going ahead with the satellite project. Aside from the prejudices against "frills" held by the supposedly hard-headed businessmen who now run the Pentagon, there are serious arguments against going ahead all-out with the satellite project.

Although some of the specialists in the art believe that a simple satellite of orbital vehicle can be launched into space for as little as $20 million, others strongly disagree. The more skeptical technicians point out that there are many unknown factors remaining, and they have estimated the cost as high as half a billion dollars or even more, and the time in several years.

The most serious argument against the satellite project is that it might divert funds, facilities, and talents from other missiles — above all from the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, the grand prize of the missile race. The technicians who favor the satellite project argue on the contrary that the satellite can be achieved without any sacrifice of time in the missile race, that the satellite is in fact a kind of free dividend of the efforts to create an IBM.

Not Fanciful Headlines

But the most cogent pro-satellite argument can best be understood in terms of a couple of headlines: Soviets Claim Successful Launching Of Earth Satellite, and U.S. Radar Confirms Existence of Soviet Satellite.

Two facts suggest that these headlines are not as fanciful as may be supposed.

First, the possibility that the Soviets will launch a satellite is taken so seriously that a satellite-detection project has been established at White Sands, New Mexico, and at Mount Wilson, California. A tremendous flap was caused not long ago in the Pentagon when the project identified not one, but two satellites. It turned out that both were natural satellites, never before detected.

Second, the Russians in April announced with a flourish the creation of a "permanent interdepartmental commission for interplanetary communication." Russia's greatest scientist, Peter Kapitsa, was appointed to the commission. Its first task was announced as "the organization of an automatic laboratory of scientific research in cosmic space . . . which would, over a long period, revolve around the earth as a satellite, beyond the limits of the atmosphere . . ."

This bland announcement also caused much dismay, at least among the more sensible men in the Pentagon. For this kind of before-the-fact boasting by the Soviets must be taken very seriously indeed, as the Pentagon has learned to its sorrow, conspicuously in the case of the atomic and hydrogen bombs. Those who oppose the satellite project argue that it would not matter very much if the Russians did get the first satellite into space — it would presumably be as militarily valueless as the proposed American device.

But, as one pro-satellite official put it — "We wouldn't really know it was harmless — all we'd really know is that it was up there." The first satellite will certainly be the fore-runner of satellites with enormous military value in reconnaissance, missile guidance, and other fields. Moreover, it does not require much imagination to foresee the impression that a successful Soviet satellite-launching would make on the world. To knowledgeable men in every foreign office and military establishment, it would mean just one thing — that the Soviet military technicians had gained a commanding lead over their American opposite numbers, in the race for the ultimate weapon.

Tension And Migraine Headaches Have Nervous Basis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

If the entire population of the United States were canvassed to ascertain the most common physical complaint, headache would rank first. Constipation runs a close second and in some persons, the two symptoms would be associated.

Headache of short duration has little if any real significance but the severe, recurrent, or long continued type requires care. Only a small percentage can be traced to organic disease of the brain resulting from tumor, hemorrhage, meningitis, or injury. An equal number is caused by circulatory diseases like arteriosclerosis or high blood pressure.

The majority have a nervous basis and of these, migraine and tension headache are best known. Stress and strain and other emotional disturbances play a role in both. The characteristics of migraine and tension headaches are somewhat the same and in the future we may regard them as similar.

Migraine, which usually begins in young adulthood, leads to throbbing pain on one side of the head. It frequently is preceded by visual disturbances, nausea, and tingling and weakness of the extremities. Tension headache favors more mature persons and is related to constant or periodic emotional conflicts. The entire head is involved and only one-third experience a throbbing sensation.

Migraine is said to be hereditary but some authorities are doubtful. They believe it runs in familes through imitation or because the members may have the same problems that are dealt with in the same way.

As children, its victims were polite, serious, and well mannered. They grew up to be conservative, exacting, inflexible, quick-tempered perfectionists who become frustrated, hostile, or angry when crossed. Rage is the only emotion that has been employed successfully in the experimental production of migraine.

The tension headache sufferer is affected by stress and strain as well as by emotional upsets and it is here the two conditions overlap. Furthermore, rest and relaxation offer relief. My more intelligent headache patients tell me they obtain more good from a night's sleep than from all medicine combined.

Many are helped by ergotamine tartrate, in combination with caffeine or a sedative. These compounds are injected hypodermically or swallowed as tablets or capsules. More recently, suppositories containing these chemicals became available and are proving of value.

TOMORROW: Pancreatitis: acute or chronic.

FLORIDA FRECKLES

E. D. writes: I just returned from Florida with face and arms full of freckles. Is there anything I can do to get rid of them?

REPLY

This is the penalty some people pay for a winter vacation in a sunny climate. Stay out of the sun and your freckles will disappear spontaneously. Meanwhile, camouflage them with makeup.

MENSTRUAL DISTURBANCES

Mrs. Y. writes: Can a disturbed glandular system be responsible for irregular menstruation?

REPLY

Yes, this is one cause. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on menstrual irregularities.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

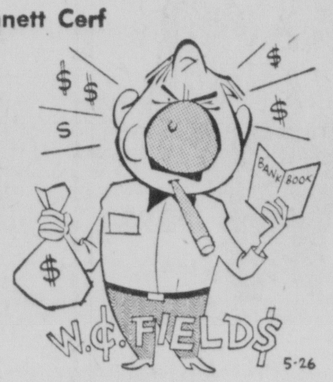

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

The great comedian, W. C. Fields, notes Scott O'Dell, had a phobia about being caught without funds; induced no doubt by the fact that in his youth he knew the pangs of utter poverty. As a result, when he became rich, he began depositing large sums in banks all over the country, to guard against any one of them shutting its doors.

In fact, Fields had so many accounts — many opened under the fantastic noms de plumes he was fond of inventing for himself — that he lost all track of his holdings. To this day there may be many thousands of his stashed-away dollars lying around unclaimed in bank vaults of the U.S.A. and Europe.

Henry Ford, O'Dell goes on to say, once forgot that he had a savings account in a Canadian bank—probably because the total deposited was such a piddling sum: three million dollars.

Non-existant bank accounts—not forgotten ones — are my trouble!

Adenauer's Victory Good For West

Germans reacted stoically when the black-red-gold banner of the West German Republic rose over the capital at Bonn. Their new state had achieved sovereignty and the right to rearm, but there was no waltzing in the streets—as there was in Vienna as Austrians hailed the treaty restoring their country's independence. The Germans were not in a dancing mood.

Nor can they be expected to be as long as Germany remains divided. But there is no indication that their state of mind need cause loss of sleep to the statesmen who brought the West German state into existence and made it an equal partner in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Western European Union.

The Germans, knowing that the unification of their country is far off, cannot rejoice — but they know that they have taken the best course open to them and they are prepared to follow it.

This is again manifest in the results of the election in the Rhineland-Palatinate. The two million voters of the state gave Chancellor Adenauer his greatest victory at the polls in the last two years. Adenauer's party won a majority of the seats in the state parliament, increasing its total from 43 to 51.

The Socialists challenged the government's foreign policy and their position cost them support. The residents of the Rhineland-Palatinate evidently do not believe that the German people can achieve their legitimate aspirations, including real independence as well as unity, by listening to the siren song from Moscow.

Against the background of recent developments in Paris, in Vienna and in Warsaw, these German election results come as a hopeful portent.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Aneurin Bevan

LONDON — Britain's bad boy is Aneurin Bevan, an evangelical, primitive Socialist who goes his own way, shattering before him whatever does not fit his concept of life. He is now engaged in splitting his own Labor party which, if it is defeated in this election, could fall apart into three sections, Bevan leading one of them. It is possible both to underestimate and overestimate this man; the significance of his political activity is that he cannot be ignored. The Labor party stands for managerial socialism which is more like the New Deal in the United States. They would have government controls over the life of the people and government ownership of those phases of the British economy which are monopolistic or tend to become monopolistic. But they are not ideological Marxists, coming closer to a Norman Thomas Socialist than to a Communist.

The most important economic problem in this country is raising the standard of living of the people. Wages are comparatively low. The average annual income of a typical male clerk or a female stenographer would be about 400 pounds which is about 1150 dollars; the average female industrial worker about 300 pounds or 750 dollars; the average male industrial worker under 21 about 250 pounds or about 600 dollars. This provides a picture of income and purchasing power. Instalment buying is not highly developed and is not encouraged because the fear of inflation is very great.

The Labor party wants wages increased and the standard of living raised by government controls and by what they regard as scientific methods; the Conservatives believe in competition and creating demands for more products by prosperity which depends to a great degree upon an export trade. The Conservatives are impressed by American methods of creating mass consumers and mass production industries. The Laborites, who are Socialists, have many reservations about American methods. Both parties wonder what mass production and particularly automation can do to social conditions in a comparatively small country. Aneurin Bevan runs across this discussion with early 20th Century arguments of the Keir Hardie type which no longer fit the conditions of these times. But that makes little difference because his emotionalism, his oratory, his stimulation of discontent give him an important following despite full employment and a rising wage scale.

It is to be noted that no improvements affect those who live on old age pensions, who have become the new poor. As long as full employment exists, Bevan's arguments arouse interest but do not give him prime leadership. As a matter of fact, the opposition to him is strongest in the trade unions. But it is admitted on all sides that if the economy suffered a setback, if conditions inside or outside affected Great Britain, so that unemployment returned, there is no telling what Bevan could accomplish politically. He might reach leadership in the Labor party and even become prime minister. Bevan is anti-American although it is not clear whether that is a political maneuver like a mayor of Chicago threatening to punch King George's nose to get votes, or is a support of Soviet Russia which Bevan does not openly support.

Even his enemies deny that Bevan is a Communist, although they are not able to describe exactly what he is because his ideas do not fit a pattern. They only know that he makes trouble for everybody and revels in it. When the Labor party tried to expel him, they came up against sufficient resistance to take him back, and he is now out campaigning under Labor party auspices although he says all the things that they do not want him to say in this campaign. The latter is headed up by Aneurin Bevan, who has been slamming away without restraint at the Conservatives. In one speech he likened them to "swine." In another speech he said that Christianity and Conservatism are inconsistent, whereupon the Conservatives struck back with the cry that he had called a lot of respectable Britishers "heathens."

If the Labor party loses, the Bevanites will claim that the Attlee, Morrison and Gaitskell leadership has been discredited and that more aggressive policies are needed — such as more instead of less nationalization and more opposition to American policies in the world, plus the prohibition of the use of the hydrogen bomb by Britain and her allies. This will be meat for the Communists, of course, whose main objective seems to be to promote and intensify discord and disunity all along the line.

Shows Communist Intrigue

Something of the nature of the Communist intrigue can be derived from a story being told about the British newspaper strike which ran 26 days. Although it was initiated by two small unions of mechanical employes, one dominated by Communist officers, the other unions did not dare to go to work independently. Finally, in a sensational conference between one of the leaders of the strike and Sir Walter Monckton, minister of labor in the Conservative government, the union spokesman who was a Communist admitted that the purpose of the strike was to promote as much trouble as possible for the nation. When Sir Walter threatened to tell the House of Commons the full story, the labor leader agreed to terms.

It is significiant that Sir Hartley Shawcross, attorney general in the last Socialist Labor government, in a campaign speech a few days ago about the wave of unofficial strikes and jurisdictional disputes said that many were "inspired by Communists." Then he declared that "in the nature of things, it is easier for a labor government to handle this sort of situation, in close consultation with the Trade Union Congress and to ensure better discipline and loyalty to negotiated agreements, than the Tories (Conservatives)."

The spectacle of a right-wing member of the Socialist Labor party telling his constituents that his party can handle the Communists better than the Conservatives brings smiles to the Communists, who hope to produce more strife by keeping the large number of union members in a constant battle with other unions, especially over jurisdictional matters. Thus, the moderate non-Communist union leaders are caught in the middle. They find their greatest obstacle is the lack of interest among the rank and file who fail to attend local meetings and hence permit the Communists to rig all sorts of maneuvers with which the majority do not really agree.

Strikes Helped Conservatives

The Conservatives have been trying to avoid getting into a campaign argument about the current strikes which threaten both the docks and the railroads. The Labor party speakers nevertheless are whispering that the Conservatives are preparing legislation to restrict the right to strike. One veteran union leader, Sir Will Lawther, former head of the coal miners, remarked that the recent wildcat strikes have done the Socialist Labor party's chances of winning this election more harm than anything the Conservatives could do.

There are rumors that, if the Conservatives get a comfortable majority, they will be inclined to put some curbs on Communist activities in Britain. For here is a democracy which doesn't see many persons openly aligned with the Communist party but suffers grievously nevertheless as a result of the mischief promoted by an underground force directed from Moscow.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

When Fiorello LaGuardia brewed homemade beer in his congressional office he was doing a Fiji fire dance on the front burners.

But when Fiorello took the slapsticks away from the New York rurales he set law and order back further than buttons on a rattler.

There was something about five cents worth of hickory that inspired sober second thoughts in a roustabout. Well-seasoned timber could be depended on to give you an extra lump to think with.

Seventy-five years ago a Manhattan copper said, "There is more law and order in the end of a nightstick than there is in a night court."

Thirty years ago the riot squad raided the dead-falls and hide-aways of the neighbors' children. They were equipped with croquet mallets, billiard cues and baseball bats in case anybody wanted to choose up sides.

And in case of a tie they had over-age destroyers consisting of long-handled sappisters, six yards of picket fence and straight-edged boomerangs with proximity fuses.

The fame of the exuberant squad accumulated to the point when a hood would arrest himself. He would grab the back of his own neck and plead, "The collar—not the sap."

The collar of course is the pinch. The sap does not run in trees.

LaGuardia decided he could reduce the sensitivity of municipal serenity by confining the sap to Vermont sugar maples in the spring.

He took the knuckle-loaders away from the cops and substituted finesse, suavity and five for neatness.

You know the rest, in the books you have read, how the British soldiers fired and fled. The teenagers toddled up and took over, lock, stock and good red herring.

Now, there's a movement on foot for Birnam Wood to come to Dunsinane. And once again will MacDuff's rookies be laying on with their knob-kerries.

Debate On Satellite

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

With a determined but not very expensive effort, it should be possible to launch an artificial satellite into space about this time next year. This, at least, is the contention of leading technicians in the missile field, who have submitted to the Pentagon plans for launching a man-made heavenly body in about 12 months.

Until recently, it was thought that it would take at least two years to put a satellite into space. But recent technological breakthroughs in the missile art have made it possible—at least in the opinion of some qualified technicians—to halve this estimate.

If the Pentagon approves the project, the object to be shot into space so soon will not be much to look at. The plans call for an object only about nine inches in diameter, of the simplest and lightest possible construction. To save weight and bulk—which is of course all important—the little thing will contain no instruments at all, other than a radar-response device to permit it to be tracked by radar on its journeyings around the globe.

Will Disintegrate

The purists in such matters insist that the object will not be a true earth satellite, but rather an "orbital vehicle." The purists are right, in the sense that such an object will not remain forever in space, like the moon. Instead, it will spiral very gradually back towards earth, after some weeks or months of circling the globe, and when it reaches the denser atmosphere close to earth, it will disintegrate.

Obviously, the tiny thing will have no immediate military application whatever. For this reason, a debate has been going on in the Defense Department, about whether or not it is worth going ahead with the satellite project. Aside from the prejudices against "frills" held by the supposedly hard-headed businessmen who now run the Pentagon, there are serious arguments against going ahead all-out with the satellite project.

Although some of the specialists in the art believe that a simple satellite of orbital vehicle can be launched into space for as little as $20 million, others strongly disagree. The more skeptical technicians point out that there are many unknown factors remaining, and they have estimated the cost as high as half a billion dollars or even more, and the time in several years.

The most serious argument against the satellite project is that it might divert funds, facilities, and talents from other missiles — above all from the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, the grand prize of the missile race. The technicians who favor the satellite project argue on the contrary that the satellite can be achieved without any sacrifice of time in the missile race, that the satellite is in fact a kind of free dividend of the efforts to create an IBM.

Not Fanciful Headlines

But the most cogent pro-satellite argument can best be understood in terms of a couple of headlines: Soviets Claim Successful Launching Of Earth Satellite, and U.S. Radar Confirms Existence of Soviet Satellite.

Two facts suggest that these headlines are not as fanciful as may be supposed.

First, the possibility that the Soviets will launch a satellite is taken so seriously that a satellite-detection project has been established at White Sands, New Mexico, and at Mount Wilson, California. A tremendous flap was caused not long ago in the Pentagon when the project identified not one, but two satellites. It turned out that both were natural satellites, never before detected.

Second, the Russians in April announced with a flourish the creation of a "permanent interdepartmental commission for interplanetary communication." Russia's greatest scientist, Peter Kapitsa, was appointed to the commission. Its first task was announced as "the organization of an automatic laboratory of scientific research in cosmic space . . . which would, over a long period, revolve around the earth as a satellite, beyond the limits of the atmosphere . . ."

This bland announcement also caused much dismay, at least among the more sensible men in the Pentagon. For this kind of before-the-fact boasting by the Soviets must be taken very seriously indeed, as the Pentagon has learned to its sorrow, conspicuously in the case of the atomic and hydrogen bombs. Those who oppose the satellite project argue that it would not matter very much if the Russians did get the first satellite into space — it would presumably be as militarily valueless as the proposed American device.

But, as one pro-satellite official put it — "We wouldn't really know it was harmless — all we'd really know is that it was up there." The first satellite will certainly be the fore-runner of satellites with enormous military value in reconnaissance, missile guidance, and other fields. Moreover, it does not require much imagination to foresee the impression that a successful Soviet satellite-launching would make on the world. To knowledgeable men in every foreign office and military establishment, it would mean just one thing — that the Soviet military technicians had gained a commanding lead over their American opposite numbers, in the race for the ultimate weapon.

Tension And Migraine Headaches Have Nervous Basis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

If the entire population of the United States were canvassed to ascertain the most common physical complaint, headache would rank first. Constipation runs a close second and in some persons, the two symptoms would be associated.

Headache of short duration has little if any real significance but the severe, recurrent, or long continued type requires care. Only a small percentage can be traced to organic disease of the brain resulting from tumor, hemorrhage, meningitis, or injury. An equal number is caused by circulatory diseases like arteriosclerosis or high blood pressure.

The majority have a nervous basis and of these, migraine and tension headache are best known. Stress and strain and other emotional disturbances play a role in both. The characteristics of migraine and tension headaches are somewhat the same and in the future we may regard them as similar.

Migraine, which usually begins in young adulthood, leads to throbbing pain on one side of the head. It frequently is preceded by visual disturbances, nausea, and tingling and weakness of the extremities. Tension headache favors more mature persons and is related to constant or periodic emotional conflicts. The entire head is involved and only one-third experience a throbbing sensation.

Migraine is said to be hereditary but some authorities are doubtful. They believe it runs in familes through imitation or because the members may have the same problems that are dealt with in the same way.

As children, its victims were polite, serious, and well mannered. They grew up to be conservative, exacting, inflexible, quick-tempered perfectionists who become frustrated, hostile, or angry when crossed. Rage is the only emotion that has been employed successfully in the experimental production of migraine.

The tension headache sufferer is affected by stress and strain as well as by emotional upsets and it is here the two conditions overlap. Furthermore, rest and relaxation offer relief. My more intelligent headache patients tell me they obtain more good from a night's sleep than from all medicine combined.

Many are helped by ergotamine tartrate, in combination with caffeine or a sedative. These compounds are injected hypodermically or swallowed as tablets or capsules. More recently, suppositories containing these chemicals became available and are proving of value.

TOMORROW: Pancreatitis: acute or chronic.

FLORIDA FRECKLES

E. D. writes: I just returned from Florida with face and arms full of freckles. Is there anything I can do to get rid of them?

REPLY

This is the penalty some people pay for a winter vacation in a sunny climate. Stay out of the sun and your freckles will disappear spontaneously. Meanwhile, camouflage them with makeup.

MENSTRUAL DISTURBANCES

Mrs. Y. writes: Can a disturbed glandular system be responsible for irregular menstruation?

REPLY

Yes, this is one cause. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on menstrual irregularities.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

The great comedian, W. C. Fields, notes Scott O'Dell, had a phobia about being caught without funds; induced no doubt by the fact that in his youth he knew the pangs of utter poverty. As a result, when he became rich, he began depositing large sums in banks all over the country, to guard against any one of them shutting its doors.

In fact, Fields had so many accounts — many opened under the fantastic noms de plumes he was fond of inventing for himself — that he lost all track of his holdings. To this day there may be many thousands of his stashed-away dollars lying around unclaimed in bank vaults of the U.S.A. and Europe.

Henry Ford, O'Dell goes on to say, once forgot that he had a savings account in a Canadian bank—probably because the total deposited was such a piddling sum: three million dollars.

Non-existant bank accounts—not forgotten ones — are my trouble!

SRC Changes Routing Of City's Through Traffic

The State Roads Commission is completing the project of simplifying travel on Routes 40 and 220 through Cumberland.

The new routes were suggested to the SRC by William V. Keegan, police and fire commissioner, and were approved by the traffic engineering department of the SRC.

Crews are changing the signs at key intersections.

Route 40 will enter Cumberland from the west on North Mechanic Street and then go over Henderson Avenue to Baltimore Avenue.

This will take the through traffic off North Mechanic Street and Baltimore Street, two very busy thoroughfares.

Route 220's new routing will be, traveling north to south, into Cumberland on Greene Street, up Baltimore Street to Baltimore Avenue, with a left turn to Henderson Avenue and then out Bedford Street.

When the Bedford-Frederick Street improvement project is completed, Route 220 north will go from Henderson Avenue out Frederick Street, while incoming vehicles will use Bedford Street. Both will be one-way streets.

Route 220 as it has been for many years comes into Cumberland on Bedford Street to North Mechanic Street and then to Baltimore Street.

The change will remove the necessity for drivers having to cross the heavily traveled North Centre Street.

The overall change will also eliminate the left turn the northbound Route 220 travelers had to make off Baltimore Street at North Centre.

Garrett County Tax On Cigarets To Begin Next Week

OAKLAND—A resolution which would officially put into effect the penny a pack tax on cigarets in Garrett county, was passed last week by the Board of County Commissioners. The tax will go into effect June 1, and the money realized from the tax will be used for the increase in teachers' salaries in the county and for the construction of new school buildings.

The resolution also outlined the method of collection. The tax is to be paid by the purchaser to the dealer, with the dealer liable for the collection. Every dealer engaged in the business of selling cigarets in the county shall make a return to the treasurer of Garrett county covering the preceding calendar month, before the 10th day of each calendar month after July 10, 1955. The form of the returns required are to be prescribed by the treasurer. The tax imposed shall be paid to the treasurer at time of filing the returns.

Dealers are entitled to an amount equal to two percent of the gross tax to be remitted to cover the expense in the collection and remittance of the said tax.

The treasurer is authorized to examine the books, papers, invoices and other records and any stock of cigarets upon the premises of the dealer.

The resolution putting into effect the one-cent tax on each pack of cigarets sold in the county was made possible by legislative action at the recent session of the General Assembly. This bill, passed by both houses of the legislative body, was signed by Governor McKeldin.

Valley Farm Cattle Bring Record Price In West Virginia

FORT ASHBY — The largest cattle sale in the history of West Virginia was held near Fort Ashby recently with 39 head of registered Aberdeen - Angus cattle bringing $45,372 or an average of $1,194 a head.

Held on the Valley Farm of C. A. Millar, the sale attracted prominent industrialists and cattle breeders. Bidding was spirited on the portion of the prize Millar herd offered for sale.

Top price was $5,400 paid by Dr. S. T. Haigmeyer, retired brain surgean of Montreal, Canada, for a yearling cow.

F. B. Davis Jr., chairman of the board of U. S. Rubber Company, and president of Old Crow distillery, bid $5,000 for another yearling and $3,000 for another cow. The two animals will be sent to Davis' farm at Yenassee, S. C.

Paul Good of Van Wert, Ohio, was auctioneer, and Dave Canning of Staunton, Va., sale manager.

A crowd estimated at 500, mostly spectators, attended.

Speleological Convention Will Open Tomorrow At Franklin, W. Va.

FRANKLIN — Cave explorers wearing dungarees and hard hats will begin arriving in Franklin, W.Va., Friday night where they will convene for the fifth annual convention of the Virginia Region of the National Speleological Society.

Approximately 100 members of the society are expected for caving trips, business meetings and scientific discussions over the long Memorial Day weekend.

Convention headquarters will be at Dahmer's Motel where registration will get under way at 9 a. m. Saturday morning.

The Virginia Region of NSS is composed of four active grottos or chapters. They are: District of Columbia, University of Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Wythville, near Baltimore.

Convention Chairman Don Cournoyer said yesterday that it is hoped that a West Virginia grotto will be activated at the convention as West Virginia is in the Virginia region and has no active chapter.

The convention will get under way officially Saturday morning when Earl M. Thierry, chairman of the Virginia Region, will give an address of welcome. This talk will be followed by a discussion of regional problems led by John Dyas Parker.

Franklin has been chosen as the site of the convention because of restaurant, hotel and motel accommodations, and also because of the many caves in the Franklin area. There are over 50 caves in Pendleton County.

Meetings scheduled for the remainder of Saturday morning and Saturday afternoon include grotto reports, talks on "The Care And Feeding Of Carbide Lamps," "Archaeological Finds In Indian Burial Caves," "Saltpeter Mining In Virginia Caves" and slides on caves in Austria by Felix Feiser, visiting Austrian Speleologist.

Saturday night a movie entitled "In The Beginning" will be shown in the American Legion Home at McCoy's Mill. The film is a story of the formation of the Grand Canyon from the beginning of time. Another movie, "Columbia Frontier," will also be shown.

Sunday will be spent with caving trips to the following caves: Sinnit, Kenny Simmons & Rexrode, Flute and Minor Rexrode, and Sites.

A meeting of members working on the Virginia Cave Survey project Monday morning at 9:30 will bring the long weekend to a close.

OAKLAND—A resolution which would officially put into effect the penny a pack tax on cigarets in Garrett county, was passed last week by the Board of County Commissioners. The tax will go into effect June 1, and the money realized from the tax will be used for the increase in teachers' salaries in the county and for the construction of new school buildings.

The resolution also outlined the method of collection. The tax is to be paid by the purchaser to the dealer, with the dealer liable for the collection. Every dealer engaged in the business of selling cigarets in the county shall make a return to the treasurer of Garrett county covering the preceding calendar month, before the 10th day of each calendar month after July 10, 1955. The form of the returns required are to be prescribed by the treasurer. The tax imposed shall be paid to the treasurer at time of filing the returns.

Dealers are entitled to an amount equal to two percent of the gross tax to be remitted to cover the expense in the collection and remittance of the said tax.

The treasurer is authorized to examine the books, papers, invoices and other records and any stock of cigarets upon the premises of the dealer.

The resolution putting into effect the one-cent tax on each pack of cigarets sold in the county was made possible by legislative action at the recent session of the General Assembly. This bill, passed by both houses of the legislative body, was signed by Governor McKeldin.

Valley Farm Cattle Bring Record Price In West Virginia

FORT ASHBY — The largest cattle sale in the history of West Virginia was held near Fort Ashby recently with 39 head of registered Aberdeen - Angus cattle bringing $45,372 or an average of $1,194 a head.

Held on the Valley Farm of C. A. Millar, the sale attracted prominent industrialists and cattle breeders. Bidding was spirited on the portion of the prize Millar herd offered for sale.

Top price was $5,400 paid by Dr. S. T. Haigmeyer, retired brain surgean of Montreal, Canada, for a yearling cow.

F. B. Davis Jr., chairman of the board of U. S. Rubber Company, and president of Old Crow distillery, bid $5,000 for another yearling and $3,000 for another cow. The two animals will be sent to Davis' farm at Yenassee, S. C.

Other top prices included $3,500 paid by Dr. Haigmeyer and a similar amount bid by Russell D'Oench, owner of Stillwater Farms in Connecticut.

Paul Good of Van Wert, Ohio, was auctioneer, and Dave Canning of Staunton, Va., sale manager.

A crowd estimated at 500, mostly spectators, attended.

The Millars still have approximately 150 head of registered Angus cattle on their farm.

Speleological Convention Will Open Tomorrow At Franklin, W. Va.

FRANKLIN — Cave explorers wearing dungarees and hard hats will begin arriving in Franklin, W.Va., Friday night where they will convene for the fifth annual convention of the Virginia Region of the National Speleological Society.

Approximately 100 members of the society are expected for caving trips, business meetings and scientific discussions over the long Memorial Day weekend.

Convention headquarters will be at Dahmer's Motel where registration will get under way at 9 a. m. Saturday morning.

The Virginia Region of NSS is composed of four active grottos or chapters. They are: District of Columbia, University of Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Wythville, near Baltimore.

Convention Chairman Don Cournoyer said yesterday that it is hoped that a West Virginia grotto will be activated at the convention as West Virginia is in the Virginia region and has no active chapter.

The convention will get under way officially Saturday morning when Earl M. Thierry, chairman of the Virginia Region, will give an address of welcome. This talk will be followed by a discussion of regional problems led by John Dyas Parker.

Franklin has been chosen as the site of the convention because of restaurant, hotel and motel accommodations, and also because of the many caves in the Franklin area. There are over 50 caves in Pendleton County.

Meetings scheduled for the remainder of Saturday morning and Saturday afternoon include grotto reports, talks on "The Care And Feeding Of Carbide Lamps," "Archaeological Finds In Indian Burial Caves," "Saltpeter Mining In Virginia Caves" and slides on caves in Austria by Felix Feiser, visiting Austrian Speleologist.

Saturday night a movie entitled "In The Beginning" will be shown in the American Legion Home at McCoy's Mill. The film is a story of the formation of the Grand Canyon from the beginning of time. Another movie, "Columbia Frontier," will also be shown.

Sunday will be spent with caving trips to the following caves: Sinnit, Kenny Simmons & Rexrode, Flute and Minor Rexrode, and Sites.

A meeting of members working on the Virginia Cave Survey project Monday morning at 9:30 will bring the long weekend to a close.

Mt. Savage Braves Lose To Explorers

Geatzmen Win, 6-3; AHS Tops Hyndman As Flintstone Loses

Hyndman	7	5	Flintstone	1	12
Allegany	5	8

Coach George Geatz' LaSalle High Explorers edged into undisputed possession of second place in the Bi-State Conference yesterday by turning back the Mt. Savage Braves here, 6-3, for their 11th win of the league campaign.

Meanwhile Allegany High's Campers and the Bruce High Bulldogs each broke four-game losing streaks by defeating Hyndman and Flintstone respectively in other loop contests yesterday.

George Hale pitched the Campobello nine to victory at Hyndman, gaining a 7-3 decision over Don May. Bruce edged Flintstone on the latter's diamond when the winning tally crossed the plate on an error in the last inning for a 4-3 win.

Roberts Wins Fifth

Lefty Bill Roberts notched his fifth win of the campaign for LaSalle as Mt. Savage tasted defeat for the ninth time. The Explorers nicked Bishields for three runs in the first inning and backed Roberts with a seven-hit attack which included triples by Joe Conroy and Harold Hudson and a two-base knock by Ronnie Sheffler.

Mt. Savage nicked Roberts for single tallies in the third, fifth and seventh innings, finally getting the lefthander out of the game in the final frame, but Conroy came in to get the last out to preserve Bill's victory.

Cecil Hits Homer

Allegany built up a 5-0 lead in the first three innings with the big blow being Ed Cecil's towering homerun over the left-centerfield wall in the third with a mate aboard. Jerry Yankelevitz, AHS catcher, chipped in with three bingles including a two-base hit to back up Hale's steady hurling.

Hyndman was able to get the little righthander only in the fourth inning when the home team tallied all its runs. Two walks, doubles by Gary Lehman and Ranker and a single by Dennison produced Hyndman's three runs.

Error Loses Games

Frank Smith's own fielding error cost him a neat pitching duel at Flintstone and Bruce High's Bulldogs broke their four-game losing skein with a 4-3 decision.

Each team scored three runs in the first two innings and then Smith and Donnie Wilkinson settled down to pitch shutout ball until the seventh.

A walk, stolen base and Smith's error of a roller down the first base line enabled Bruce to tally the winning run in the top of the seventh to gain Wilkinson the verdict.

Homer Blubaugh, Flintstone second baseman, collected the only extra base hit of the game, a double in the first.

Turley, Berra Star As Yanks Beat Nats, 6-2

Catcher Hits Homer, Bob Wins 8th Game

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Larry (Yogi) Berra, ousted from the cleanup spot today, took it out on the Washington Senators by blasting a home run with two mates aboard the first time he came to bat and lead the New York Yankees to a 6-2 triumph.

Berra's blow, the slugging catcher's ninth of the season, was all Bob Turley needed to register his eighth victory of the season against a lone defeat. The right-handed fireballer permitted only three hits and struck out six, to boost his seasons total to a league-leading 78 strikeouts, one more than Cleveland's Herb Score.

Floyd Named Top Athlete

Dickie Beard 2nd In So. Conference

RICHMOND, Va., May 25 (AP) — Darrell Floyd, Furman University's All-America basketball player and the nation's leading major college scorer last season, today was named the Southern Conference athlete of the year.

Floyd was selected by the Southern Conference Sports Writers Assn.

Floyd, who averaged a near-record 35.9 points per game, was named to the first team All-America by the Associated Press and the Helms Athletic Foundation. He was also voted the Southern Conference basketball player of the year. He compiled his 897-point total with 44.3 per cent field goal accuracy.

Floyd led the balloting by a substantial margin over Virginia Tech's Dickie Beard. A halfback on Tech's football team, Beard led the conference in ground-gaining and was the lone survivor of Tech's injury-riddled first-string backfield after the third game. His all-round ability and game-by-game outstanding performances helped the Gobblers to an undefeated season.

Mt. Savage Braves Lose To Explorers

Geatzmen Win, 6-3; AHS Tops Hyndman As Flintstone Loses

BI STATE STANDINGS

LaSalle	11	3	Mt. Savage	4	9
Beall	10	3	Bruce	4	9
Hyndman	7	5	Flintstone	1	12
Allegany	5	8

Coach George Geatz' LaSalle High Explorers edged into undisputed possession of second place in the Bi-State Conference yesterday by turning back the Mt. Savage Braves here, 6-3, for their 11th win of the league campaign.

Meanwhile Allegany High's Campers and the Bruce High Bulldogs each broke four-game losing streaks by defeating Hyndman and Flintstone respectively in other loop contests yesterday.

George Hale pitched the Campobello nine to victory at Hyndman, gaining a 7-3 decision over Don May. Bruce edged Flintstone on the latter's diamond when the winning tally crossed the plate on an error in the last inning for a 4-3 win.

Roberts Wins Fifth

Lefty Bill Roberts notched his fifth win of the campaign for LaSalle as Mt. Savage tasted defeat for the ninth time. The Explorers nicked Bishields for three runs in the first inning and backed Roberts with a seven-hit attack which included triples by Joe Conroy and Harold Hudson and a two-base knock by Ronnie Sheffler.

Mt. Savage nicked Roberts for single tallies in the third, fifth and seventh innings, finally getting the lefthander out of the game in the final frame, but Conroy came in to get the last out to preserve Bill's victory.

Cecil Hits Homer

Allegany built up a 5-0 lead in the first three innings with the big blow being Ed Cecil's towering homerun over the left-centerfield wall in the third with a mate aboard. Jerry Yankelevitz, AHS catcher, chipped in with three bingles including a two-base hit to back up Hale's steady hurling.

Hyndman was able to get the little righthander only in the fourth inning when the home team tallied all its runs. Two walks, doubles by Gary Lehman and Ranker and a single by Dennison produced Hyndman's three runs.

Error Loses Games

Frank Smith's own fielding error cost him a neat pitching duel at Flintstone and Bruce High's Bulldogs broke their four-game losing skein with a 4-3 decision.

Each team scored three runs in the first two innings and then Smith and Donnie Wilkinson settled down to pitch shutout ball until the seventh.

A walk, stolen base and Smith's error of a roller down the first base line enabled Bruce to tally the winning run in the top of the seventh to gain Wilkinson the verdict.

Homer Blubaugh, Flintstone second baseman, collected the only extra base hit of the game, a double in the first.

Outdoor Club Seeks Fourth Win In Row

The Outdoor Club will be shooting for its fourth straight victory when it meets the winless Knights of Columbus in a Rocking Chair Softball League game today at 6:15 p.m., at Stitcher Field.

The ODC tossers have beaten the Eagles, Moose and Elks in their last three outings while the K. of C. have dropped four games in a row.

At Campobello, the Fraternal Order of Eagles will tangle with the Loyal Order of Moose at 6:15.

New Sunday Wrinkle

Denver's Bears in the American Association have an unique wrinkle in scheduling.

The Bears play their Sunday games in the evening with doubleheaders starting at 5:30 p. m., and single games at 7:30 p. m.

Turley, Berra Star As Yanks Beat Nats, 6-2

Catcher Hits Homer, Bob Wins 8th Game

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Larry (Yogi) Berra, ousted from the cleanup spot today, took it out on the Washington Senators by blasting a home run with two mates aboard the first time he came to bat and lead the New York Yankees to a 6-2 triumph.

Berra's blow, the slugging catcher's ninth of the season, was all Bob Turley needed to register his eighth victory of the season against a lone defeat. The right-handed fireballer permitted only three hits and struck out six, to boost his seasons total to a league-leading 78 strikeouts, one more than Cleveland's Herb Score.

Floyd Named Top Athlete

Dickie Beard 2nd In So. Conference

RICHMOND, Va., May 25 (AP) — Darrell Floyd, Furman University's All-America basketball player and the nation's leading major college scorer last season, today was named the Southern Conference athlete of the year.

Floyd was selected by the Southern Conference Sports Writers Assn.

Floyd, who averaged a near-record 35.9 points per game, was named to the first team All-America by the Associated Press and the Helms Athletic Foundation. He was also voted the Southern Conference basketball player of the year. He compiled his 897-point total with 44.3 per cent field goal accuracy.

Floyd led the balloting by a substantial margin over Virginia Tech's Dickie Beard. A halfback on Tech's football team, Beard led the conference in ground-gaining and was the lone survivor of Tech's injury-riddled first-string backfield after the third game. His all-round ability and game-by-game outstanding performances helped the Gobblers to an undefeated season.

Moore Is Named Heavy Contender

Light-Heavy Champ Is Top Challenger

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — If there's a young boxer coming along who some day will knock the heavyweight crown from Rocky Marciano's head, he hasn't proved he's a serious contender.

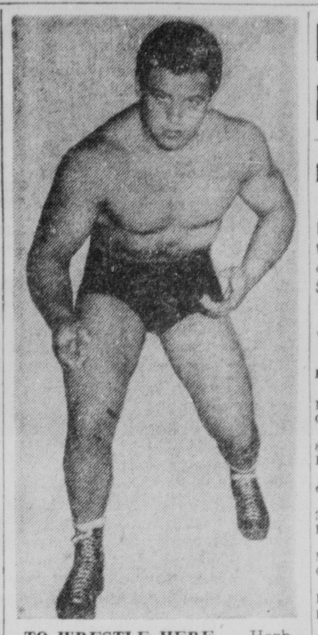

Pointing up the absence of young challengers, the Ring magazine today named 38-year-old Archie Moore, light heavyweight champion, as the No. 1 contender for heavyweight honors. And the only comparatively young fighters listed among the first 10 were Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, 23, and Johnny Holman, 27.

The reshuffling of familiar names in the monthly ring ratings resulted from two important heavyweight bouts in May. First, Moore took a 15-round decision over Cuba's Nino Valdes, then listed as No. 1 contender. After that Marciano belted England's Don Cockell loose from his No. 2 rating.

As a result, Moore was placed at the top of the heavyweight contenders—the first time a boxer has been listed in two divisions since Sugar Ray Robinson earned that distinction six years ago. Robinson, then welterweight champion, also was a middleweight contender.

Bob Baker of Pittsburgh moved up into the No. 2 spot with Cockell third and Valdes fourth.

The middleweight ratings also underwent a change as Charley Humez of France moved into the top contender's spot with Rocky Castellani of Cleveland second. Joey Giardello of Philadelphia, idle because of his difficulties with the law, dropped from first to third.

TO WRESTLE HERE — Herb Schiff of Los Angeles, Calif., is scheduled to appear in one of the four professional wrestling bouts sponsored by the Cumberland Kiwanis Club for the Sunshine Boys Camp. The program will be held Monday, May 30, at Cumberland Fairgrounds beginning at 8:30.

Mims Gets Nod Over Charley Green

ST. LOUIS, May 25 (AP) — Holly Mims of Washington, fourth-ranking middleweight, tonight stood off a late rally by Charley Green of Los Angeles to win a unanimous 10-round decision in their nationally-televised boxing bout at the St. Louis Arena. Mims weighed 154½, Green 160.

Mims floored Green for an eight-count in the first round but the West Coast fighter blasted Mims through the ropes with a hard right in the ninth.

Judge Fred Connell scored the fight for Mims 53-47. Judge Howard Hess had it 54-46 and Referee Dick Young saw it 52-48 for Mims. The Associated Press had Green ahead 51-49.

It was the 40th victory in 57 pro bouts for Mims who has lost 12 and fought five draws.

Nashua Arrives At Pimlico For Preakness On Saturday

Thinking Cap Won't Be Entered In Event

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — Nashua arrived today and those handling the five or six other colts expected to race him in Saturday's Preakness began consoling themselves with thoughts about the remnants of the more than $100,000 in prize money.

There was little bone made about the lure of $25,000 for second place, $15,000 for third and $7,500 for fourth keeping the prospective field as big as it is in the presence of Nashua.

However, it wasn't enough to induce Christiana Stable to put up $500 tomorrow morning to make Thinking Cap an entry for the mile and three sixteenths classic for 3-year-olds. Trainer Henry Clark said the stable had changed its mind since yesterday when he thought Thinking Cap might be made an entry on the chance the track could be muddy.

But Gee Cohen, owner of Chuck Thompson, kept the potential field at seven. Cohen and trainer C. R. White had dismissed the colt yesterday after doing no better than third in Monday's Preakness prep. But Cohen is mulling it over again and said he will wait until the last minute before the deadline (10 a.m. EDT) for entering.

If half a dozen start, at another $500 each, the gross purse will amount to $113,600, of which Pimlico supplies $100,000. That would leave a net profit of $65,050 to the winner after the next three are paid off.

Besides W. L. Ranch's Honey's Alibi and Duntreath Farm's Fleet Path, who beat Chuck Thompson in Monday's Prep, the entry list tomorrow is expected to include H. A. Dabson's Nance's Lad, Mrs. Marion Du Pont Scott's Saratoga, and Clifford Mooers' Traffic Judge. The latter and Nashua already have been entered.

Jockey assignments were completed today when Carlos Gonzales, a recent arrival from Cuba, was assigned to Honeys Alibi. The other riders will be Eddie Arcaro on Nashua, Eric Guerin on Traffic Judge, Jimmy Lynch on Fleet Path, Nick Shuk on Saratoga, John Choquette on Nance's Lad and Eldon Nelson on Chuck Thompson.

Chicago Wins By 1-0 And 3-1 Over Cards

CHICAGO, May 25 (AP) — Paul Minner blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 on a four-hit job and Bob Rush followed with a yield of only two hits—one a ninth inning homer by Rip Repulski—for a 3-1 decision in the second game as the Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader today.

Rookie outfielder Bill Virdon singled with one out in the first off Rush and reached third on catcher Harry Chiti's throwing error attempting to pick him off first.

Thereafter Rush did not allow another hit until Repulski's homer.

Bob Speake, Cub outfielder, contributed his sixth homer of the year as the only run of the first game with one out in the sixth inning.

Moore Is Named Heavy Contender

Light-Heavy Champ Is Top Challenger

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP) — If there's a young boxer coming along who some day will knock the heavyweight crown from Rocky Marciano's head, he hasn't proved he's a serious contender.

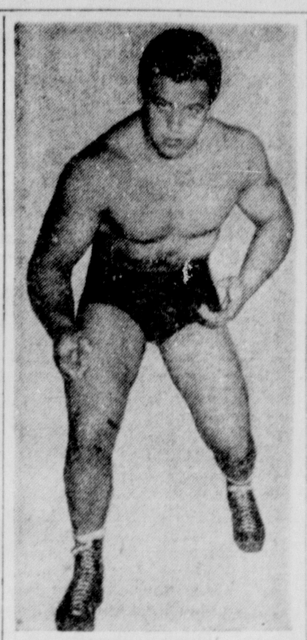

Pointing up the absence of young challengers, the Ring magazine today named 38-year-old Archie Moore, light heavyweight champion, as the No. 1 contender for heavyweight honors. And the only comparatively young fighters listed among the first 10 were Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, 23, and Johnny Holman, 27.

The reshuffling of familiar names in the monthly ring ratings resulted from two important heavyweight bouts in May. First, Moore took a 15-round decision over Cuba's Nino Valdes, then listed as No. 1 contender. After that Marciano belted England's Don Cockell loose from his No. 2 rating.

As a result, Moore was placed at the top of the heavyweight contenders—the first time a boxer has been listed in two divisions since Sugar Ray Robinson earned that distinction six years ago. Robinson, then welterweight champion, also was a middleweight contender.

Bob Baker of Pittsburgh moved up into the No. 2 spot with Cockell third and Valdes fourth.

The middleweight ratings also underwent a change as Charley Humez of France moved into the top contender's spot with Rocky Castellani of Cleveland second. Joey Giardello of Philadelphia, idle because of his difficulties with the law, dropped from first to third.

TO WRESTLE HERE — Herb Schiff of Los Angeles, Calif., is scheduled to appear in one of the four professional wrestling bouts sponsored by the Cumberland Kiwanis Club for the Sunshine Boys Camp. The program will be held Monday, May 30, at Cumberland Fairgrounds beginning at 8:30.

Mims Gets Nod Over Charley Green

ST. LOUIS, May 25 (AP) — Holly Mims of Washington, fourth-ranking middleweight, tonight stood off a late rally by Charley Green of Los Angeles to win a unanimous 10-round decision in their nationally-televised boxing bout at the St. Louis Arena. Mims weighed 154½, Green 160.

Mims floored Green for an eight-count in the first round but the West Coast fighter blasted Mims through the ropes with a hard right in the ninth.

Judge Fred Connell scored the fight for Mims 53-47. Judge Howard Hess had it 54-46 and Referee Dick Young saw it 52-48 for Mims. The Associated Press had Green ahead 51-49.

It was the 40th victory in 57 pro bouts for Mims who has lost 12 and fought five draws.

Nashua Arrives At Pimlico For Preakness On Saturday

Thinking Cap Won't Be Entered In Event

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP) — Nashua arrived today and those handling the five or six other colts expected to race him in Saturday's Preakness began consoling themselves with thoughts about the remnants of the more than $100,000 in prize money.

There was little bone made about the lure of $25,000 for second place, $15,000 for third and $7,500 for fourth keeping the prospective field as big as it is in the presence of Nashua.

However, it wasn't enough to induce Christiana Stable to put up $500 tomorrow morning to make Thinking Cap an entry for the mile and three sixteenths classic for 3-year-olds. Trainer Henry Clark said the stable had changed its mind since yesterday when he thought Thinking Cap might be made an entry on the chance the track could be muddy.

But Gee Cohen, owner of Chuck Thompson, kept the potential field at seven. Cohen and trainer C. R. White had dismissed the colt yesterday after doing no better than third in Monday's Preakness prep. But Cohen is mulling it over again and said he will wait until the last minute before the deadline (10 a.m. EDT) for entering.

If half a dozen start, at another $500 each, the gross purse will amount to $113,600, of which Pimlico supplies $100,000. That would leave a net profit of $65,050 to the winner after the next three are paid off.

Besides W. L. Ranch's Honey's Alibi and Duntreath Farm's Fleet Path, who beat Chuck Thompson in Monday's Prep, the entry list tomorrow is expected to include H. A. Dabson's Nance's Lad, Mrs. Marion Du Pont Scott's Saratoga, and Clifford Mooers' Traffic Judge. The latter and Nashua already have been entered.

Jockey assignments were completed today when Carlos Gonzales, a recent arrival from Cuba, was assigned to Honeys Alibi. The other riders will be Eddie Arcaro on Nashua, Eric Guerin on Traffic Judge, Jimmy Lynch on Fleet Path, Nick Shuk on Saratoga, John Choquette on Nance's Lad and Eldon Nelson on Chuck Thompson.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A little girl hates her freckles because she's teased about them. She may even feel they make her look more like the Huckleberry Finn type than the little pink princess she'd like to be.

But a grown-up girl with a knowing way about her looks realizes that a sprinkling of freckles across her nose can be enchanting. We here at the Powers School encourage letting them show. We do, however, give advice on making them less conspicuous, if a girl really has too many of them or can't be happy with those she has.

We seldom must emphasize the importance of being faithful to an effective sun-screening lotion or advise a wide hat or umbrella overhead in the sun. But it is often necessary to straighten out the powder base problem. The tendency is to wear a heavy one that looks artificial. An opaque base if needed, but the trick is to use it lightly, two coats instead of just one. Allow the first coat to dry before applying the second. And eye shadow and lipstick in vivid shades play down the skin.

Doctors and druggists can advise you about a lotion that gradually fades some freckles. Some of them, that is — others persist in spite of it. Dermatologists can remove freckles, but this involves tedious and expensive treatment. Be sure you aren't actually more individual and attractive the way you are before investigating freckle removal. Study yourself and try to imagine what you'd look like without freckles and ask others what they think. You know how my vote goes — I think freckles are charming.

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coins, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

PSYCHIC BIDDING COMPLICATES THE PLAY

THE DEFENSE in expert games is often complicated by the fact that one (or even both) of the defenders may have done some tricky and misleading bidding. West was up against just such a situation in the deal below.

West dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ A 4 3 ♥ 7 ♦ A K 9 8 7 5 2 ♣ 3 2
♠ Q 9 ♥ Q J 8 ♦ 10 6 4 ♣ K Q 9 5 4	N W E S	♠ 10 8 7 ♥ 10 6 5 2 ♦ J ♣ A J 10 8 6
	♠ K J 6 5 2 ♥ A K 9 4 3 ♦ Q 3 ♣ 7

This was rubber bridge at a well-known New York club, where bids do not always follow routine courses. This was the auction:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	2 ♦ (!)	Dble.
3 ♣	Pass	3 NT (!)	Dble.
Pass	Pass	4 ♣	4 ♠
Pass	5 ♠	Pass	6 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Obviously, East was "fancy" right from the start, when he put in the virtually psychic cue bid of North's suit, but East was not the only one who bid strangely. North's performance also invites comment. His failure to rebid a seven-card suit was certainly remarkable, especially when South showed something in diamonds by doubling East's cue bid. Six diamonds would have been a far better slam than six spades.

West, having played with that particular partner before, did not take the diamond cue bid too seriously; he reasoned that if East had really been void, he would have doubled six spades to demand a diamond lead. So West tried the surprise attack of the heart queen. South won with the ace, led a low trump to the ace, then took the trump finesse to his own jack. Whether he should have taken this finesse is a moot point in view of the marked psychic bidding by East, but the pertinent fact is that when West won the trick, he had a problem. Should he now lead a diamond in the hope of East's ruffing, or should he try for a club trick?

After profound thought, West decided that South, if he had held three diamonds and no clubs, would have refused the trump finesse in an effort to avoid a possible diamond ruff. So West led the club king, and that was the end of the slam contract.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A little girl hates her freckles because she's teased about them. She may even feel they make her look more like the Huckleberry Finn type than the little pink princess she'd like to be.

But a grown-up girl with a knowing way about her looks realizes that a sprinkling of freckles across her nose can be enchanting. We here at the Powers School encourage letting them show. We do, however, give advice on making them less conspicuous, if a girl really has too many of them or can't be happy with those she has.

We seldom must emphasize the importance of being faithful to an effective sun-screening lotion or advise a wide hat or umbrella overhead in the sun. But it is often necessary to straighten out the powder base problem. The tendency is to wear a heavy one that looks artificial. An opaque base if needed, but the trick is to use it lightly, two coats instead of just one. Allow the first coat to dry before applying the second. And eye shadow and lipstick in vivid shades play down the skin.

Doctors and druggists can advise you about a lotion that gradually fades some freckles. Some of them, that is — others persist in spite of it. Dermatologists can remove freckles, but this involves tedious and expensive treatment. Be sure you aren't actually more individual and attractive the way you are before investigating freckle removal. Study yourself and try to imagine what you'd look like without freckles and ask others what they think. You know how my vote goes — I think freckles are charming.

So West tried the surprise attack of the heart queen. South won with the ace, led a low trump to the ace, then took the trump finesse to his own jack. Whether he should have taken this finesse is a moot point in view of the marked psychic bidding by East, but the pertinent fact is that when West won the trick, he had a problem. Should he now lead a diamond in the hope of East's ruffing, or should he try for a club trick?

After profound thought, West decided that South, if he had held three diamonds and no clubs, would have refused the trump finesse in an effort to avoid a possible diamond ruff. So West led the club king, and that was the end of the slam contract.

State Rehabilitation Camp Opens In Area

Officials Discuss Year-Round Program At Green Ridge Site

Plans for conducting a year-round program at the new rehabilitation camp for wayward boys in Green Ridge Forest were discussed yesterday afternoon at the camp by a group of state and county education and welfare representatives.

Conferring at Green Ridge were Dr. James E. Spitznas, director of instruction for the State Department of Education; Thomas J. F. Waxter, state welfare director; Maurice Hunt, head of the Bureau of Child Welfare of the State Welfare Department; Anthony Manella of the Bureau of Child Welfare; County Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster, Assistant Superintendent Richard T. Rizer, and J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education in the county school system.

This new experimental camp, patterned after one tha has been established in California, was just opened in the Green Ridge facilities which had been used in recent years by the Girl Scouts.

A married couple is in charge of the camp and there are 10 boys now under their direction. The couple and the boys have been at the Maryland Training School.

The idea of the rehabilitation camp is to speed the adjustment of the boys so that they might soon live normal lives in society.

The 10 boys at the camp are now busy repairing some of the damage caused by last October's Hurricane Hazel. Once the repairs are complete the enrollment will be expanded to about 25 boys, which will be the maximum number.

During the spring, summer and early fall the boys are expected to be kept busy working for the State Department of Forests and Parks. They will receive some pay for their labor.

Yesterday's discussion concerned the type of program to be conducted when cold weather arrives. Considerable emphasis was given on a manual training program for the development of handicrafts.

The meeting was primarily for an exchange of ideas. There was no attempt to reach a definite decision.

Oakland Boy, 9, Suffering From Paralytic Polio

A nine-year-old Oakland boy whose brother received a shot of Salk vaccine has developed paralytic polio and is being treated in Memorial Hospital here.

He is William Spiker Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Spiker, Oakland.

His physician said he is progressing as well as can be expected.

The case was reported by Dr. Arthur F. Jones, Garrett County health officer.

Dr. Jones said William and his seven-year-old brother, John, who received his first shot of Salk vaccine on April 25, both became ill on May 16.

Both of the boys, he said, showed polio symptoms.

Brother Improves

However, the second grader's symptoms disappeared during treatment in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland, while his older brother's condition became worse, resulting in his being transferred to the local hospital last Friday.

Dr. Jones said both the Maryland State Health Department and the U. S. Public Health Service are investigating.

Officials pointed out that the Garrett County lad's illness is the second case of polio in Maryland this year. The first was a four-year-old Prince Georges County child who had not been vaccinated.

There have been similar cases elsewhere in the country. A U. S. Public Health Service spokesman said all involved Cutter laboratories vaccine. Wyeth-produced vaccine has been used in Maryland.

Check Relationship

The USPH spokesman said through May 17 there had been reported 23 cases of polio among persons who had household contacts with children who received the Cutter vaccine. The children themselves did not develop the disease.

In the Maryland case the vaccinated brother was said to have shown polio symptoms but these disappeared after hospital treatment.

Dr. Edward Davens of the Maryland State Health Department, said it was his understanding it was not yet known whether there is any relationship between the vaccine and the polio which developed among those not vaccinated. He said he understood this was one of the aspects of the vaccine being investigated.

Fort Hill High Given TV Set

Fort Hill High School yesterday was presented with a blonde 21-inch television set by the parents of four children who attended Fort Hill, the youngest of whom is a member of this year's graduating class.

William M. Dailey, Kent Avenue, in a letter which accompanied the gift, told Principal Victor D. Heisey that he and Mrs. Dailey have had the pleasure of seeing three of their children graduate and receive their diplomas from Fort Hill, and this coming week expect to see their youngest child, Mary Dailey, receive her diploma.

The well-known South Cumberland businessman, an active booster of Fort Hill and a trustee of the school, noted that it is "with some sadness as well as pride" that his family sees the last of their children leave the influence of the teachers and the school.

Heisey said "it is a wonderful gift and we can put it to very good use, but the thought behind it is most wonderful of all."

This beautiful panoramic view of the area seven miles east of the city shows the site of the Sports Car Hill Climb to be staged Sunday morning and afternoon. The photographer was standing near the finish line as he took the picture. The arrow is pointing to the starting line about 1,200 feet below this point, and a mile and a quarter down Breakneck Road. The cars will start in the area toward Murley's Branch Road and will travel up Breakneck toward Cumberland.

'Diaper Dan' In Unusual Theft Case

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—An Ocean City restaurant operator, who claims he doesn't know if he's a burglar or not and sometimes steals from himself, presented Judge Herman M. Moser with a "puzzling case" today.

Charles Alfred Cadwalader, 42, entered pleas that would not contest the findings of the court in two burglary indictments.

"If I did it, I don't know. I hardly know what to say about it. Maybe I did it, maybe I didn't . . . something tells me to do things and I have bad dreams I can't explain," the defendant said.

Dr. Philip Lerner, a psychiatrist, testified that Cadwalader had reported he once burglarized his own automobile glove compartment and had broken into places to steal such things as baby's diapers.

Cadwalader, who was born in Cumberland, Md., bore a prison nickname of "Diaper Dan" during one of his prior confinements. He lives in Baltimore when not in Ocean City and claims to have enough money to live on and no reason to steal.

He has, however, a long past record of burglary, dating back to juvenile days. Judge Moser sentenced the man to eight years for a series of burglaries 10 years ago.

Cadwalader claimed through his attorney, Wilfred T. McQuaid, to have no recollection of the offenses.

He has a history of a baseball injury as a child when he was knocked out by a blow on the head. He told his psychiatrist, Dr. Lerner, that he has feared sunlight since he was a baby.

He declared that during his summer business venture in Ocean City he will view the sunlight only through a window—from the inside.

Dr. Lerner said he found no organic neurological malfunctions but said he suspected the patient might be subject to psychomotor epilepsy.

Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, the court psychiatrist, called Cadwalader's a "very puzzling case" but said tests do not support the Lerner epilepsy theory.

The court psychiatrist said he suspected Cadwalader drinks more than he is willing to admit and the drinking may loose anti-social impulses.

Dr. Guttmacher suggested that the court give some consideration to a defense proposal for intensive psychiatric clinical study.

Judge Moser said he would consider the case, but warned "the community has a right to expect its judges not to rely blindly upon medical suggestions."

Public Education In West Virginia Will Be Studied

LOGAN, W. Va., May 25 (AP)—The composition of one-third of the committee that will make a study of public education before the 1956 Legislature meets in January was announced today.

The list of seven appointees chosen by House Speaker W. E. Flannery contained the names of three former presidents of the State Senate.

One of the things the special Legislature accomplished at its week-long meeting this month was to adopt a resolution creating a 21-member citizens' commission to explore the general field of public education in all its aspects.

The governor, Senate president and House speaker each was authorized to name seven members to the study group. The three officials will serve as ex-officio members, and the governor is to name the chairman from among the 21 lay members.

The three former Senate presidents named by Flannery include: Charles E. Hodges, managing director of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, representing business; A. G. Mathews of Grantsville, legislative representative of the West Virginia Farm Bureau, representing agriculture, and Arnold M. Vickers, Montgomery attorney who served as co-chairman of the joint legislative committee which developed the Strayer report on education. Vickers represents the professions.

Other Flannery appointees:

Dr. Irvin Stewart, president of West Virginia University, education; Eugene A. Carter of Charleston, president of the West Virginia Federation of Labor, labor; Dr. R. H. Crist of South Charleston, project manager for Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp., industry, and Mrs. Frances Evans of Logan, former member of the House of Delegates and a West Virginia representative at the first White House Conference on Education. Mrs. Evans represents civic organizations.

Gov. Marland and Senate President Ralph Bean (D-Hardy) have not announced their selections for the committee.

Sports Car Contest Is Set For Sunday

Overlooking one of the area's most picturesque valleys, with a chain of beautiful mountains forming the backdrop, Cumberland's first annual Sports Car Hill Climb will be staged on one of the steepest and sharpest curved courses found anywhere in the East.

Thousands of people, expected to view this fascinating sport Sunday morning and afternoon, will doubtless include many who have lived fo years almost within sight of this natural beauty spot, yet have never had occasion to see it.

Just seven miles east of Cumberland and connecting with US Route 40, Breakneck Road climbs 1,200 feet in about a mile and a quarter, over which some of the best sports car drivers in the country will race against time.

Co-sponsored by the Washington Region Sport Car Club of America and the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company, the hill climb will start at 10 a.m. Sunday and will continue until noon. After a recess of an hour and a half for lunch and a brief chapel service, it will be resumed for another two-hour period, concluding about 3:30 p.m.

Traffic Aids Planned

Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, one of the area's foremost sports car enthusiasts, and Mrs. Skitarelic, have been assisting the firemen in the local details of promoting and planning for the event. The Skitarelics own two sports cars and both plan to compete in the hill climb.

Yesterday afternoon, Dr. Skitarelic took members of the press over the course and pointed out many of the features.

The show has been planned so that spectators driving from Cumberland will enter Breakneck Road off Route 40 without any difficulty. State Police will be on hand at the intersection to handle the heavy traffic expected.

The visitors will be escorted and directed by Cumberland Auxiliary Police and uniformed firemen from Flintstone and Corriganville to parking areas. All along the racing track, farmers have opened up high fields for parking. At the nine turns on the road, one of which is "Horseshoe Bend" at its perfection, brush, weeds, and trees have been cleared away so a full view of the racers is provided, and the view for the drivers is unimpaired.

In the interest of the comfort and convenience of the crowd, at several points, large trees have been left standing to provide shelter and shade. Concession stands are being erected at several vantage points and outside toilet facilities are constructed.

Scenery Being Improved

The firemen have been working until midnight for the past several weeks to make the area a veritable park, so that people will want to go there to see the races, view the scenery, enjoy the outing, and will want to come back year after year.

Sports car owners and drivers who came here as a committee, or just to make test runs, are unanimously enthusiastic about the course, its location and its possibilities. Dr. Skitarelic said the enthusiasm shown thus far indicates that Cumberland is gaining in favor with the sports car people and can, with continued effort and cooperation, become a sports car mecca.

The races Sunday will be run against time. An Indianapolis Speedway electric timing devi will be used to clock the cars as they mount the summit. The drivers, according to class, will be rated for their speed and skill in reaching the top.

The races will be run from the opposite direction of the spectator approach, but the project has been planned so well th the track will be clear of spectators all the time.

As an added safety factor, and to assure complete control of all traffic, Headquarters Company, Maryland National Guard, through the cooperation of Col. Randolph Millholland, will handle communications. Loudspeakers will be

Two Men Lose Parole Status

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason yesterday sentenced two men to six-month terms in the House of Correction for violations of paroles granted earlier this month following convictions on charges of habitual drunkeness.

They were booked as Calvin Miller, Laing Avenue, and Palmer Howsare, Flintstone area (not Constable Palmer W. Howsare of the same community).

Magistrate Mason told the men they had been picked up by city police on charges of violating two-year paroles. Both entered not guilty pleas.

Howsare admitted he had two glasses of beer prior to his most recent arrest here, and said:

"Surely two glasses of beer can't make you drunk."

The magistrate did not argue the point but told the man he was guilty on his own testimony, since his parole was given on condition he "refrain from drinking."

Miller said he drank a little because he had a cold. He said he was in bad health.

The magistrate informed Miller he would be "sent down" and would be placed in the hospital if he needed medical attention.

Bothemen were informed they had 10 days in which to file appeals from the parole suspensions.

Souvenir Folder Tells Story Of Oldtime Bargain Days

The Retail Merchants Association of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has printed a four-page folder as a memento of the recent Old Fashioned Bargain Days.

Anthony Saeli, manager, said copies of the souvenir folder are being sent to all members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The publication, he said, was planned as a memento of the successful occasion and as a part of the Chamber's contribution toward the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial.

Thousands of copies of the folder are being printed and will be supplied to all who have requested information about the event, one of the most successful in the history of the city.

It includes almost two dozen pictures taken during the bargain days and is headed — "Cumberland maintains position as trading center for the Tri-State Area."

The Chamber gives a prominent place to an editorial "A New Spirit in Cumberland" which is reprinted from The Cumberland News.

The pictures bear out one of the comments made in the editorial, "Everybody had a whale of a good time."

State Rehabilitation Camp Opens In Area

Officials Discuss Year-Round Program At Green Ridge Site

Plans for conducting a year-round program at the new rehabilitation camp for wayward boys in Green Ridge Forest were discussed yesterday afternoon at the camp by a group of state and county education and welfare representatives.

Conferring at Green Ridge were Dr. James E. Spitznas, director of instruction for the State Department of Education; Thomas J. F. Waxter, state welfare director; Maurice Hunt, head of the Bureau of Child Welfare of the State Welfare Department; Anthony Manella of the Bureau of Child Welfare; County Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster, Assistant Superintendent Richard T. Rizer, and J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education in the county school system.

This new experimental camp, patterned after one tha has been established in California, was just opened in the Green Ridge facilities which had been used in recent years by the Girl Scouts.

A married couple is in charge oi the camp and there are 10 boys now under their direction. The couple and the boys have been at the Maryland Training School.

The idea of the rehabilitation camp is to speed the adjustment of the boys so that they might soon live normal lives in society.

The 10 boys at the camp are now busy repairing some of the damage caused by last October's Hurricane Hazel. Once the repairs are complete the enrollment will be expanded to about 25 boys, which will be the maximum number.

During the spring, summer and early fall the boys are expected to be kept busy working for the State Department of Forests and Parks. They will receive some pay for their labor.

Yesterday's discussion concerned the type of program to be conducted when cold weather arrives. Considerable emphasis was given on a manual training program for the development of handicrafts.

The meeting was primarily for an exchange of ideas. There was no attempt to reach a definite decision.

Oakland Boy, 9, Suffering From Paralytic Polio

A nine-year-old Oakland boy whose brother received a shot of Salk vaccine has developed paralytic polio and is being treated in Memorial Hospital here.

He is William Spiker Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Spiker, Oakland.

His physician said he is progressing as well as can be expected.

The case was reported by Dr. Arthur F. Jones, Garrett County health officer.

Dr. Jones said William and his seven-year-old brother, John, who received his first shot of Salk vaccine on April 25, both became ill on May 16.

Both of the boys, he said, showed polio symptoms.

Brother Improves

However, the second grader's symptoms disappeared during treatment in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland, while his older brother's condition became worse, resulting in his being transferred to the local hospital last Friday.

Dr. Jones said both the Maryland State Health Department and the U. S. Public Health Service are investigating.

Officials pointed out that the Garrett County lad's illness is the second case of polio in Maryland this year. The first was a four-year-old Prince Georges County child who had not been vaccinated.

There have been similar cases elsewhere in the country. A U. S. Public Health Service spokesman said all involved Cutter laboratories vaccine. Wyeth-produced vaccine has been used in Maryland.

Check Relationship

The USPH spokesman said through May 17 there had been reported 23 cases of polio among persons who had household contacts with children who received the Cutter vaccine. The children themselves did not develop the disease.

In the Maryland case the vaccinated brother was said to have shown polio symptoms but these disappeared after hospital treatment.

Dr. Edward Davens of the Maryland State Health Department, said it was his understanding it was not yet known whether there is any relationship between the vaccine and the polio which developed among those not vaccinated. He said he understood this was one of the aspects of the vaccine being investigated.

William M. Dailey, Kent Avenue, in a letter which accompanied the gift, told Principal Victor D. Heisey that he and Mrs. Dailey have had the pleasure of seeing three of their children graduate and receive their diplomas from Fort Hill, and this coming week expect to see their youngest child, Mary Dailey, receive her diploma.

'Diaper Dan' In Unusual Theft Case

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—An Ocean City restaurant operator, who claims he doesn't know if he's a burglar or not and sometimes steals from himself, presented Judge Herman M. Moser with a "puzzling case" today.

Charles Alfred Cadwalader, 42, entered pleas that would not contest the findings of the court in two burglary indictments.

"If I did it, I don't know. I hardly know what to say about it. Maybe I did it, maybe I didn't . . . something tells me to do things and I have bad dreams I can't explain," the defendant said.

Dr. Philip Lerner, a psychiatrist, testified that Cadwalader had reported he once burglarized his own automobile glove compartment and had broken into places to steal such things as baby's diapers.

Cadwalader, who was born in Cumberland, Md., bore a prison nickname of "Diaper Dan" during one of his prior confinements. He lives in Baltimore when not in Ocean City and claims to have enough money to live on and no reason to steal.

He has, however, a long past record of burglary, dating back to juvenile days. Judge Moser sentenced the man to eight years for a series of burglaries 10 years ago.

Cadwalader claimed through his attorney, Wilfred T. McQuaid, to have no recollection of the offenses.

He has a history of a baseball injury as a child when he was knocked out by a blow on the head. He told his psychiatrist, Dr. Lerner, that he has feared sunlight since he was a baby.

He declared that during his summer business venture in Ocean City he will view the sunlight only through a window—from the inside.

Dr. Lerner said he found no organic neurological malfunctions but said he suspected the patient might be subject to psychomotor epilepsy.

Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, the court psychiatrist, called Cadwalader's a "very puzzling case" but said tests do not support the Lerner epilepsy theory.

The court psychiatrist said he suspected Cadwalader drinks more than he is willing to admit and the drinking may loose anti-social impulses.

Dr. Guttmacher suggested that the court give some consideration to a defense proposal for intensive psychiatric clinical study.

Judge Moser said he would consider the case, but warned "the community has a right to expect its judges not to rely blindly upon medical suggestions."

Two Men Lose Parole Status

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason yesterday sentenced two men to six-month terms in the House of Correction for violations of paroles granted earlier this month following convictions on charges of habitual drunkeness.

They were booked as Calvin Miller, Laing Avenue, and Palmer Howsare, Flintstone area (not Constable Palmer W. Howsare of the same community).

Magistrate Mason told the men they had been picked up by city police on charges of violating two-year paroles. Both entered not guilty pleas.

Howsare admitted he had two glasses of beer prior to his most recent arrest here, and said:

"Surely two glasses of beer can't make you drunk."

The magistrate did not argue the point but told the man he was guilty on his own testimony, since his parole was given on condition he "refrain from drinking."

Miller said he drank a little because he had a cold. He said he was in bad health.

The magistrate informed Miller he would be "sent down" and would be placed in the hospital if he needed medical attention.

Bothemen were informed they had 10 days in which to file appeals from the parole suspensions.

Souvenir Folder Tells Story Of Oldtime Bargain Days

The Retail Merchants Association of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has printed a four-page folder as a memento of the recent Old Fashioned Bargain Days.

Anthony Saeli, manager, said copies of the souvenir folder are being sent to all members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The publication, he said, was planned as a memento of the successful occasion and as a part of the Chamber's contribution toward the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial.

Thousands of copies of the folder are being printed and will be supplied to all who have requested information about the event, one of the most successful in the history of the city.

It includes almost two dozen pictures taken during the bargain days and is headed — "Cumberland maintains position as trading center for the Tri-State Area."

The Chamber gives a prominent place to an editorial "A New Spirit in Cumberland" which is reprinted from The Cumberland News.

The pictures bear out one of the comments made in the editorial, "Everybody had a whale of a good time."
